NINETY-FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the
SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 2002

The House was called to order at twelve o'clock noon by Speaker Kreider.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Lord of All; as this House, its members and staff, begin a new session, we seek Your blessings in this moment of silence. Be gracious to our land and to these men and women chosen by the people of Missouri to do justice, to show compassion and to act honorably.

Help them lay aside the powerful drives of self-promotion and self-gain, in order to work for the promotion and gain of all. Put Your arms around them and give them strength and wisdom greater than their own so they may serve all Your people. And Gracious God, send to them in their times of trial and compromise, when they have done their best, a hearty laugh, and empathetic smile and a readiness to take on the next issue.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Representative Crump suggested the absence of a quorum.

SPEAKER ADDRESSES THE HOUSE

Good afternoon everyone.

Ladies and gentlemen, just four months ago, when the nation collectively held its breath as tragedy unfolded, and our loved ones were calling us home to be with them during those difficult times, this body did what no other legislature in the United States did.

It stood firm.

This body put the interests of the people before its own.

This House of Representatives decided to send a message that terrorism would never be rewarded in our democracy.

You rose to the challenge and passed a comprehensive prescription drug package and kept a commitment to our seniors.

I am proud of this institution and I am proud of you.

As your Speaker, your colleague, and your friend, I want to begin today by saying thank you for your service to all Missourians. And I invite all those in the upper galleries to join me in a round of applause as we salute American Democracy and the efforts of those who serve it.

The challenge before us is what some of you have heard me refer to as “The Perfect Storm.”

Today, we begin what for most of us will be our last session in the Missouri House of Representatives. We are losing almost one-half of our experienced public servants.

Now is our moment of truth. As you all know by now we will be asked to cut nearly $1 billion dollars in state services.

To most Missourians, that may not seem difficult in a budget that is $19 billion dollars.

Yet, you must consider that nearly $12 billion of that $19 billion dollars is federal and state mandates that we cannot touch. That leaves $7 billion dollars to cut from.

The fact is that everyone likes to say they want to cut the fat. And on the campaign trail it is certainly popular to run against “big government.”

But when we get here and find out that cutting big government means that someone gets less service and that ‘someone’ is a child, or an unemployed worker, or a single mother, or one of our seniors, the enthusiasm for deep cuts fades away.

Then it is not difficult to see why those campaigns to “end big government” rapidly turn into promises to “fight for working families.”

Will we rise to the challenge?

Will we have the guts to make the tough choices?

What will our priorities be?

The number one priority of the Missouri House of Representatives is to fully fund the foundation formula for public education.

Public education is the very foundation of our democracy...

Ladies and gentlemen, public education is the door to equal opportunity in this country.

Horace Mann said: the public school is the greatest discovery ever made.

Public education is how we achieve Dr. Martin Luther King's dream for America.

It is what turns the hopes of our children in to the realities of the future.

It is what allows them to become engineers, teachers, nurses, builders, artists, writers, farmers, and yes, even Representatives.

So that one day, when our children sit in these chairs, it will not be to gain political favor but to return a favor.

And to invest in the future of their children.

The state constitution states that maintaining a public education system is our most important responsibility.

We must fully fund the foundation formula for public education.

To fully fund public education, this body will lead by example.

As of today, the Missouri House of Representatives is proud to announce that by cutting travel, eliminating senior-level jobs, and streamlining our operations, we have saved approximately $2 million from our own budget.

And therefore I urge the Budget Chair and the House Budget Committee to redirect those cost savings towards public education.

Let there be no question that the House of Representatives takes its responsibility to our future very seriously.

And, with this first step, we challenge the Missouri Senate and each department and agency to do their part.

Follow our example. Make tough choices -- and help keep our commitment to the future of Missouri by fully funding public education.

Now let's get back to work!

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRD DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 14, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Heavenly Father, the first full week of this session begins today. The wheels of legislation begin to spin slowly but surely. Help to make our work this week a reflection of the beauty, truth, goodness, justice, and peace which You have placed so deeply within each of our hearts.

If we begin with You in body, mind, and soul, perhaps the laws passed here will more earnestly mirror You, who are justice and peace itself. On this Monday, guide and direct us all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the second day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

LETTER OF RESIGNATION

January 14, 2002

Speaker Jim Kreider
Room 308
State Capitol

Dear Speaker Kreider:

Today I submit my letter of resignation as State Representative of the 63rd District effective 12 noon. I leave this illustrious post to allow the Governor to call a special election that may coincide with other necessary special election dates.

As Vice-Chair of the House Elections Committee, as well as the Interim Committee on Election Reform and Ballot Access, I am privy to the concerns of election officials in regard to special elections. Each special election held in the City of St. Louis costs the State of Missouri approximately $120,000. As elections will be held to fill the seats of former Reps. Harry Kennedy and Louis Ford, I hope that my resignation will result in substantial cost savings. It is important to me that government demonstrates to its citizens that we care about every aspect of their lives. Saving money is a good starting point.

I have enjoyed and appreciated the opportunity to serve the people of the 63rd District and to share the awesome lawmaking responsibilities entrusted to my colleagues and me. Thank you for your leadership.

Live Long and Prosper,

/s/ Maida J. Coleman

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Father, we pray that neither politics nor personal gain veer this House off course. Let the people's safety and progress truly be the supreme law of this assembly. Help us here to be mindful of all citizens, the poor, the rich, the weak, the powerful, all the humanity who people this great state of ours. Let these representatives sense again that one of their greatest accomplishments today is that they are serving those who have chosen them to sit and work in this great Chamber. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the third day was approved as corrected.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

By
Chief Justice Stephen N. Limbaugh, Jr.
to the 91st General Assembly, Second Regular Session

January 15, 2002

President Maxwell, Speaker Kreider, distinguished members of the Senate and House of Representatives. My office in the beautiful red brick building across the street is adorned with photographs and wall hangings and tables full of mementos and newspaper clippings and all sorts of personal reminders of my family and my career and my many blessings. Prominently displayed on one wall is a framed copy of the collection of photographs of each of the members of the House of Representatives who served in the 56th General Assembly some 70 years ago in 1931 and 1932. The original of the collection hangs on the fourth floor of this building, and my copy is one of the items in my office that I cherish most. You see, one of the photographs depicts my grandfather, the original "Rush Limbaugh," who passed away just six years ago at age 104.

My grandfather served only one term. He didn't run for reelection. He said he couldn't afford it! But he looked back on those two short years with immense pride. While here, he co-sponsored the bill that created the Missouri State Highway Patrol and another bill that consolidated many dozens of tiny rural public school districts like that which operated the one-room school he attended as a child. And as a lawyer-legislator, he was one of three members of the House selected to prosecute the impeachment trial of the state treasurer for misdeeds in office. Although my grandfather served only one term, he always regarded the honor of serving as a member of the House of Representatives to be one of the highlights of his long career and, indeed, one of the highlights of his long life.

I learned about the honor of service, the honor of public service, first from my grandfather, then from my father, who is a senior United States District Judge. Having served on the bench myself for nearly 15 years, first as a circuit judge and now as a judge on the Supreme Court, I appreciate more than ever the honor of my office and the responsibilities that go with it.

The honor of serving the public is the theme of my presentation on the state of the judiciary. Those who serve as judges, like those who serve in the General Assembly, must do so for the honor of serving the public. In my mind, the best account of the state of the judiciary is to show how our judiciary lives up to that honor. To that end, and on behalf of our judges at every level of the judiciary, I invite you to our courthouses, so that you may see first hand the administration of justice in this state. A visit to our courthouses, for you legislators who may be concerned about the doctrine of separation of powers, is no breach of protocol. To be sure, our forefathers built into our system of government a healthy tension between the three branches of government, but that tension should not preclude a healthy interaction between the three branches of government.

This very afternoon, we will hear oral arguments in the Supreme Court. You are invited. There are two cases on the docket, and they are representative of our usual fare in the sense that they are cases that present the novel and difficult and complex legal issues of the day. The first case is State of Missouri v. Planned Parenthood and The Director of the Missouri Department of Health, which deals with the constitutionality of and eligibility for family planning appropriations related to abortion services. The second case is State of Missouri v. Andre Cole, the direct appeal of a death sentence. If you cannot attend in person, you may tune in on the Internet.

Should you favor us with a visit, you will see the members of the Court engage in a vibrant, if sometimes esoteric, dialogue with the lawyers representing their clients. You will see the difficulty and complexity of the issues raised by the parties. You will see how we members of the Court struggle with those issues in an effort to follow the law as written in our constitution and the statutes you enact. And it is our hope that you will understand that the resolution of the cases depends not on our personal preferences, or even on our personal notion of the equities involved, but on our abiding oath to follow the law as written in our constitution and the statutes you enact.

This afternoon will be the last time our colleague, Judge John Holstein, sits with the Court, as he has announced his retirement after 27 years on the bench. Judge Holstein is the only judge in the history of the state to have served at every level of the judiciary — as magistrate/probate judge, associate circuit judge, circuit judge, judge of the court of appeals, and for the last 12 years, judge of the Supreme Court. As a consequence of his wealth of experience, he brought to the Supreme Court a special insight on so many difficult legal issues, not only those involving the processing and trial of cases, but those involving the substance of the law as well. Without fail, he served with honor and dignity, and with an unswerving commitment to our system of justice. We will miss him, and we wish him well as he returns to private practice.

Judge Holstein, would you stand to be recognized.

Though the difficult and weighty legal issues of the day are addressed in the Supreme Court, it is even more important that you visit the county courthouses throughout the state where every day, in hundreds of cases, justice is meted out person to person, face to face. The judges there will welcome you.

The decision-making process in the trial courts is different than that in the appellate courts. In general, appellate courts address only issues involving the application of the law, and they defer to the factual determinations made in the trial courts by judges and juries that have had the benefit of seeing the witnesses and hearing their testimony in person. Those of you who have served on juries know the difficulty and frustration of sorting out conflicting testimony, of determining whether seemingly believable witnesses are telling the truth, fabricating falsehoods, or perhaps simply mistaken. Trial judges sort out that testimony for a living, presiding over the great majority of cases that are tried without a jury. But that is only part of the job. After the factual determinations of a case are made, it is necessary to fashion a proper resolution. It is a hard thing to sit in judgment on another person, whether in the imposition of sentence in a criminal case, or the assessment of damages in a civil case, or the determination of custody and support in a dissolution case. The resolution of such cases requires more than the mere application of the law to the facts, the resolution requires the exercise of sound discretion.

When you visit your county courthouse, go first to the criminal courts. There you will find judges striving to maintain the balance between society's need for vigorous prosecution of criminal offenders and the equally important need to ensure to those who are accused of criminal offenses the fundamental and inalienable rights associated with the presentation of their defense. The vast majority of cases are disposed by pleas of guilty without a trial, and, as I mentioned, most of the cases that go to trial are tried without a jury. In all those criminal cases, the judge must exercise his or her sound discretion in imposing punishment. You will see some cases that call for righteous indignation and a severe sentence, and other cases that call for a measure of compassion and a chance for redemption on probation. You will see that the saving of souls is a large part of the judge's work, and that for each judge, the dispositions in criminal cases are ultimately matters of conscience.

Allow me to offer two examples from my own experience that are representative of the kinds of cases on the dockets of the criminal courts. As a circuit judge, I heard only one death penalty case. Under the law, the range of punishment in those cases is simply death, or life imprisonment without parole. Like all death penalty cases, the crime in this case was horrendous. It involved an execution-style murder. The victim was bound up and shot in the back of the head. And so the prosecutor justifiably argued that the death penalty should be imposed. Defense counsel argued for a life sentence because the defendant did not have a significant history of criminal offenses, and the defendant, himself, was genuine in expressing remorse for his conduct and sympathy for his victim. In addition, he had pled guilty instead of going to trial. Unlike most of the defendants we see in capital cases, this man seemed salvageable, and I sentenced him to life in prison without parole.

The other case involved a defendant charged with felony child abuse. She was the mother of the child in question. The young child had been beaten and sexually abused. During the plea of guilty, it became clear that although a boyfriend was the actual perpetrator, the defendant, who had not been in any danger herself, knew of the abuse and allowed it to go on. Evidence also was developed, as is often the case, that the defendant had been the victim of similar abuse during her own upbringing. The discretionary call to be made was how best to cut the generational cycle of abuse — to send the defendant to prison so that she would understand the consequences of her acts and be deterred from those acts in the future, or to try to rehabilitate her by placing her on probation with conditions that she undergo counseling and therapeutic treatment and courses on parenting skills. I learned, however, that on more than one occasion before the offense occurred, the defendant had been reported to the Division of Family Services and that earlier efforts to rehabilitate her obviously had failed. In that case, I sent the defendant to prison.

As I said, these are the kinds of cases that confront our judges every day. There are hard cases, and it is not unusual for us to second-guess the wisdom of our decisions. Was the punishment too harsh? Was it not harsh enough? Have we lived up to the honor of our office by doing justice in the case?

On your visit to the courthouse, I also would direct you to the courtrooms in which our judges hear domestic cases — dissolutions, motions to modify custody and support, cases involving emergency orders of protection, and the like. In the cities and the larger outstate circuits, domestic cases are heard in statutory family courts, presided over by judges who have special training in that area of the law. The common experience of judges who hear domestic cases is that all too often they see people at their worst, people who are ordinarily good and decent folks, but whose lives are in turmoil and trauma because of the breakup of a marriage or a battle over custody of their children. In many cases, it is no small chore for judges to divide the marital property, but that chore is nothing compared to the obligation to divide up the kids. It should be no wonder to you that the rate of attrition for judges working in the family courts is very high, and most judges transfer to the criminal or civil courts after two or three years. Except for a few saintly types like my friends Judge Tom Frawley in St. Louis City and Judge Susan Block in St. Louis County, burn out is unavoidable. Our sense of empathy for the parties to those cases — the anguish that we feel for both the parents and the children — can, after a time, be difficult to bear.

To draw on my own experience once again, I remember the visit to my court by my then state representative, and your longtime colleague, Mary Kasten. Undoubtedly, you remember that she was actively involved in issues pertaining to children and families, and on the day of her visit, I was hearing a child custody case. At the request of counsel for both sides, I agreed to conduct a closed-door examination of the child who, as I recall, was 8 or 9 years old. Although the arrangement was that neither the parents nor the lawyers would be present, everyone agreed that Representative Kasten, who as you know has always been a soothing influence, could sit in with me. I took the child to the jury room, and my court reporter and I sat with him at the conference table while Representative Kasten sat off to the side. I began with gentle questions designed to impress upon the child the importance of telling the truth and to assure the child that I was there solely to look out after his best interest. After I spent some time with questions about his school and his outside activities and his friends, I got around to the tough part. The exchange was something like this:

Do you love your mom? Yes.

Do you love your dad? Yes.

Do you like to be with your mom? Yes.

Do you like to be with your dad? Yes.

If you can't be with both of them, would you be happier with your mom or with your dad? I want to be with both of them and I want them to be together.

I don't remember how I decided this case, but as you can see, there was no good solution available. In any event, Mary Kasten went away with the kind of understanding of the work of the courts that I wish all of you could have.

That said, whatever you learn from your trip to the courthouse still will not give you a full picture of the obligation of judges. Our judges know full well that the effort to live up to the honor of their office must not stop at the courthouse door and that the honor of their office means more than the competent and professional processing of cases. In that regard, our judges statewide donate their time and talents to a host of activities that pertain to the improvement of the administration of justice as a whole. Some judges serve on our continuing education committees that provide essential training not only for judges, but also for court clerks, court reporters and juvenile officers. Most courses are taught by the judges, themselves, some of whom have become master teachers. Other judges, like Judge Robert Dierker of St. Louis, contribute with their writing skills. For instance, Judge Dierker has been instrumental in the preparation and publication of our scholarly and immensely practical Trial Judges Bench Books, and he recently published an invaluable treatise on the practice of criminal law in Missouri.

My immediate predecessor as chief justice, Judge Ray Price, chairs the Drug Court Commission, and serves with several other judges, legislators and executive branch officials. Certainly the work of that Commission, which is to make available alternatives to incarceration for non-violent drug offenders, is critically important in these times where there is no money to open new prisons, even those that are already built.

In addition, Judge Richard Teitelman of the Court of Appeals in St. Louis, who is sight-impaired, chairs the Supreme Court's Ad Hoc Committee on the Courts and the Disabled. He serves with several other interested members of the judiciary, as well as with a number of lay persons and with Representative Chuck Graham who has provided his valuable insight and assistance. The Committee is undertaking a survey of our courtrooms and the practices in our courts so that we can ensure that reasonable accommodations are provided to persons with disabilities. We judges want to convey the message that equal access to justice necessarily means equal access to the courthouse.

Indeed, there is a wide variety of administrative committees, and the list of judges who volunteer for the work of those committees is extensive. We have committees that address issues ranging from the review and promulgation of jury instructions in both civil and criminal cases, to forms and procedures for judicial record keeping, to the administration of examinations for our certified court reporters, to mention just a few.

One administrative committee that merits particular attention is the statutorily created Missouri Court Automation Committee. The Committee is composed not only of judges, but also of court clerks and legislators, and the primary purpose, as you know, is to provide a uniform, statewide computerization system that gives courts greater capacity to manage dockets while allowing instant access to all public court records. Senators Jacob and Klindt, and Representatives Carnahan and Crowell, serve as the legislative members of the committee and are becoming well versed on the issues. The project is half-complete, and the need has never been greater, especially from the standpoint of law enforcement and public safety.

A case in point occurred three years ago when a Missouri State Highway Patrol trooper was shot and killed while making an arrest. The arrestee was wanted on felony warrants from another Missouri county, but the trooper had no idea of the need for extra caution because of the delay in manual transmission of the warrant information from the court to the Highway Patrol. One feature of court automation on the immediate horizon is the near real-time transmission of warrant information and adult protection orders to the Highway Patrol for statewide access by law enforcement agencies. It is a feature that may well save lives.

The extracurricular work of our judges is by no means limited to the work of our administrative committees. In that connection, I must admit that I have long looked forward to the opportunity to showcase the selfless public service performed by so many of our judges.

Consider the example of my friend Jack Garrett who is presiding judge of the 37th Circuit in southern Missouri. For about 5 years running, Judge Garrett and his chief juvenile officer have sponsored an annual conflict resolution task force for teenagers. They target 7th grade students in each of the circuit's 19 school districts. With the assistance of college students from SMSU, they conduct small group seminars to address issues such as bullying, school violence and substance abuse. In addition, Judge Garrett sponsors an annual mediation camp and workshop for students in grades 6 through 8, training those students to develop and implement peer-mediation panels in their schools.

In Kansas City, our family court judges have implemented a truancy diversion program in which several judges, led by Judge Steve Nixon and Judge Marco Roldan, meet with "at risk" children and their parents or parent once each week at 7:30 a.m. The judges discuss not only the truancy problem, but also other family needs that may be contributing to the problem, including the child's safety and well-being and parental accountability for the child's needs. Last summer, Judge Nixon took the children he is working with to a Royals baseball game. Judge Roldan has found his Hispanic roots to be of value in working with the families at the McCoy Elementary School where English is a second language.

The truancy diversion program originated in St. Louis City and County where it continues to flourish. The two saintly judges I mentioned earlier, Tom Frawley in the City and Susan Block in the County, are the chief administrative judges of their respective family courts. In that capacity, they have assembled teams of judges and an occasional lawyer who make weekly visits to troubled children in the city and county school districts.

Circuit Judge Joan Burger, who sits in a criminal division of the Circuit Court of St. Louis City, is one of the volunteers for the truancy program. Several weeks ago she authored an article published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch describing the program, and I have taken the liberty of sending a copy of that article to each one of you. She wrote that "My motivation is simply this: 85 percent of the people in prison are high school dropouts. I thought that if I can keep them in school, then maybe I won't have to send them to prison." I ask that you read about the details of the program yourselves, but I'll share Judge Burger's conclusion: "In most cases, attendance improves immediately. All the words and threats and tears of parents, teachers and counselors haven't worked, but the authority of the judge and the frequent court dates turn these kids around." Despite that conclusion, progress is often made in small steps. According to Judge Burger, "One child was doing poorly in history, so I gave him an assignment of going to the library and bringing a history book to court. He brought me [a book on] the history of skateboarding!"

I also want to mention another St. Louis City judge, Judge Henry Autrey, a former prosecutor, who serves in a number of other ways. He speaks to various groups on the issue of child abuse prevention. He also participates in reading exercises and tutoring programs for young children at city schools. But his most personally fulfilling service is playing the role of Santa Claus for the elderly residents at a local nursing home. According to Judge Autrey, "We forget the sacrifices they made and the hard work they endured so that we could achieve our personal successes."

And then there is my new colleague on the Supreme Court, Judge Laura Stith, who, despite her appointment to this Court, continues her service as a charter member of a Kansas City organization called LEAP, Lawyers Encouraging Academic Performance. For two or three hours every week, Judge Stith and several other judges take one or two grade school girls each, girls who are from the inner city, from needy families, and some from homeless families, and they buy their school supplies, tutor them, mentor them, and help them through school.

I apologize for having spent too much time dwelling on the challenges and difficulties and the sacrifices of judicial service. We judges are honored to serve. That honor comes first and foremost from the fact that we are the ones entrusted to resolve the challenging and difficult cases of the day. When we are able to resolve those cases with competence, professionalism, impartiality and dispatch — indeed when we resolve those cases with justice — our jobs are fulfilling and rewarding beyond measure.

It must be said, too, that not all of our cases pose challenges and difficulties, but the honor of serving is present nonetheless. As a trial judge, among my favorite cases were adoption cases, which I handled for two or three years as part of my duties as a judge of the juvenile court. I held juvenile court on Fridays, and I heard adoption cases on the first Friday of each month, except in December, when I saved all the adoption cases for the Friday before Christmas. Adoption cases fall into several categories, the adoption of children from unwanted pregnancies, the adoption of children of parents whose parental rights were terminated for abuse or neglect, step-parent adoptions, and international adoptions of orphaned children who are given hope for a bright future in the United States. Unlike other cases where all too often we see people at their worst and the conflicts presented seem irreconcilable and the solutions we have to offer are less than satisfactory, in adoption cases we see people at their best, and the only complications are those in tying up the legal loose ends to ensure that the adoptive child will have the blessing of a safe home and loving family.

At the conclusion of one of the first adoption cases I heard, a remarkable thing happened. As I pronounced judgment, the lawyer representing the adoptive family asked leave to approach the bench. Instinctively, I thought there must be a problem. But the lawyer came up to me and whispered, "Judge, would you mind having your picture taken with the new family?" And so I came down off the bench in my black robe, and I took the young child in my arms flanked by the two proud parents with tears in their eyes, and the guardian ad litem, not about to miss out on the action, snapped picture after picture. And we all rejoiced!

Now that is an honor! From that day forward, lawyers in my adoption cases didn't have to ask if I would mind having my picture taken with the new family, I insisted!

In conclusion, I wish that each of you could experience the great honor to serve as judge of this state, but I am sure that my grandfather had it right — that each of you feels the same way about the great honor you have of serving in the legislature.

As you progress with the session, I ask that you take fair account of the needs of the judiciary.

And finally, for all the good work you will do for the citizens of this state, I bid you Godspeed.

Thank you.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Lieutenant Governor Maxwell.

Speaker Kreider resumed the Chair.

FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Loving God, we thank You for this new day. Strengthen these men and women of the House, and the staff that supports them in the belief that Your truth is far better than any lie, that the power of love is greater than the power of hate, that the patience to work through conflict is a way to peace, and that the inner struggle to put self-service aside in order to serve others is always worth the effort.

Give to them also, in Your grace, a hearty laugh this day at an unexpected moment. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourth day was approved as corrected.

SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Heavenly Father, we bow before You in thanksgiving for the gifts that are ours. Help these Your servants, the men and women of the House, and their staff, to make good use of the gifts that You give.

And we ask You to keep Your still, small voice within us. Do not let us give up on the things that matter. Give to these who lead our state the ability to sort out the true from the false.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

SEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 21, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Deep within the source of our common human heritage, God, You have somehow planted this idea of the inherent dignity of every human person. Your son, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., lived and died for the truth of that noble idea, turning it into an ideal. Our state's constitution highlights that dignity.

Today, God, be with and re-inspire the men and women in this great Chamber with that goal's fire as they begin this week of leadership. In Martin's memory, Almighty Father, we begin this session. Thank You for giving him to our nation and to our world. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

EIGHTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Budget, the downturn in the economy, fallout from the term limits legislation, redistricting, deterioration in the transportation system infrastructure – God, these and a multitude of other concerns stir up the legislative soup as our representatives gather again today. Long, long ago You began this whole Universe by Your creative command.

You continue to hold all things together, but You invite our co-creative courage and decisions. Let innovative and resourceful juices flow even more into these men and women as they continue to address Missouri's problems. We count on Your almighty and compassionate hand. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as honorary pages for the day, to serve without compensation: Brittany Sanders, Liz Tarr, Ben Tarr, Cassie Arrowood, Julie Shuck, Casey Smith, Shane Smith, Colby Thompson, Rachel Richardson, Jonathon Bradney, Nicole Widaman, Sara Foster, Adam Bunton, Joseph Costley, Kylie Sheat, Rebecca Davis, Molly Bunton and Elizabeth Godfrey.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

NINTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Lord of Life, the day is overcast, but in Your presence there is only light. Grant Your Holy Light to these men and women of our legislature, our government and members of the court chosen to lead our state. Help them discern between faith and fatalism, between activities and accomplishment, between the needs of the many and the wishes of the few.

These leaders can stand criticism, they can stand pressure, but they can not stand and lead us, without a sense of the just, the prudent, the merciful. Grant to them illumination. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Zachary Nordyke, Hope Nordyke, Mitchell Bell, Phillip Bell, Emily Wheeler, Rachael Simmons, Brooks Simmons and Andrew White.

The Journal of the eighth day was approved as printed.

The following message was delivered by Governor Holden to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR BOB HOLDEN

“MEETING OUR CHALLENGES TOGETHER”

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Mr. Chief Justice, members of the Missouri State Supreme Court, members of the 91st General Assembly, and citizens of the State of Missouri:

The state of our state today, like the state of our nation, is one of challenge.

We are challenged from without by a terrorist threat.

We are challenged from within by a recession that grips not only Missouri, but all of America.

We are challenged to live within our means while we continue to provide for those who most need our help and while we continue to build Missouri's future.

It's tough, but we are going to get it done.

We are Missourians, and we know how to work together to meet our challenges.

That's the kind of thing you learn about early in life when you grow up like I did in a small Ozark community.

A community where everyone was just trying to get by -- to keep a roof overhead, food on the table, clothes on our backs, and the bills paid.

A big Saturday night at our house was popping popcorn, splitting a couple of Cokes among six people, and going to a drive-in movie.

We didn't have a lot, and what we had wasn't fancy.

But we were among the most fortunate kids in our community because we had a loving and supportive family.

Raising a family in Birch Tree, Missouri, in the 1950s and 1960s was a real challenge for many.

But my parents never saw it that way.

They saw it as an opportunity -- an opportunity to raise their children in a caring and safe environment.

An opportunity to raise us in a place where with a little struggle and a little sacrifice you could give your children a better tomorrow.

A place where as a family and a community you could all stick together and get the job done.

I've thought about those days a lot over the last few months as our Missouri economy has slid from record growth to recession.

I've thought about the examples the people of Birch Tree set for us while I was growing up -- each generation doing its part so the next generation would have greater opportunities.

There is no better example of this than one set recently by an outstanding Missourian.

She has joined us here today, and I want you to meet her.

She had some unusual aspirations while she was growing up in southeast Missouri.

While other young women dreamed of becoming doctors or business executives or teachers or shopkeepers, she dreamed of becoming something girls couldn't be.

She wanted to be an astronaut.

She never missed the coverage of a space launch -- often watching with her father who worked as a machinist at a factory.

And she didn't dwell on insurmountable barriers standing in her way -- for example, the fact that NASA wouldn't even consider women applicants for astronaut duty.

In spite of this, she knew if she was ever to realize her dream, she would need to get the best education possible.

And she got that education right here in our Missouri public schools.

She graduated from high school in Jackson, Missouri, and received her undergraduate degree at Southeast Missouri State University.

Then she did graduate work at the University of Missouri-Columbia where she received a master's degree in science and a doctorate in physics.

In her spare time, she learned to fly.

In 1978, when NASA began taking women applicants for the astronaut corps, Linda knew that instead of having no chance to become an astronaut, she would now have one chance in a million.

She was one of only a hundred applicants to be interviewed out of the thousands that applied.

On her first and second go-around, she was turned down.

And after two rejections, I am sure a lot of us would think there are other ways to make a living.

But our honored guest doesn't think that way.

She was persistent, and in the newspapers and on television not too long ago, there were pictures of her at work.

In outer space.

On the International Space Station.

As a member of the crew of Space Shuttle Endeavour.

This young woman who once walked the hills and fields of rural Missouri, dreaming great dreams and gazing up at the stars, gazed down on Missouri as she walked in space.

Today she walks with us.

She is here with her husband, a former astronaut himself who hails from our neighboring state of Illinois.

Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome home our Missouri astronaut Linda Godwin and her husband Steven Nagel.

Linda and Steven, would you please stand.

Linda Godwin's accomplishments are a shining example of how all children growing up in Missouri can rise to meet their personal challenges if they work hard, and if we -- their parents and teachers -- provide the opportunity and support for a good education.

The lessons we must take from Linda Godwin are as important as they are obvious.

In times of challenge, we must keep sight of our goals.

We must stick together.

We must get the job done.

The economic outlook confronting the state of Missouri in fiscal year 2003 presents a major challenge.

We were experiencing record prosperity through the late 1990s.

But now we are in the midst of a national recession -- made even more severe by the events of September 11th.

As Governor, I have a constitutional responsibility to keep the state budget in balance, and I will do so.

As all of you sitting in this chamber know, the state's budget is not all that different from the budget every Missouri family has at home.

Once you take out the money you have to spend on basics like food, rent, and outstanding bills, the amount you actually have control over is only a small fraction of what you take in.

So in formulating the state's spending plan for this year, we are going to have to do what all Missouri families do when they gather around the kitchen table to look at their budgets.

We will make some tough choices that will limit state spending to the amount of our projected revenue.

And we will do so without an across-the-board-tax increase.

In doing this, we will be guided by four key principles.

First, we will redouble our efforts to reduce government waste and to improve the efficiency and management of the administration of state government.

We have had success in this area, but we must do more.

At a time when we must ask some Missourians to accept less in state services, we must be able to assure all that they are getting the most from every dollar we spend on running state government.

Second, in making the hard choices to reduce programs and spending, we have tried to protect services as best we could for those who need us the most -- the children, the elderly and the disabled.

Third, we will refuse to allow the challenges of the present to prevent us from building Missouri's future.

And fourth and most important, we will keep as our first priority the education of our children.

We will provide full funding with full accountability for our K-12 public schools.

We should not rest until all our schools and all our students are performing at their maximum potential.

Because I know all of you share my belief that educating our children is our top priority, I ask your help in approving important legislation to achieve these goals.

Now, let's get to some specifics.

THE BUDGET

Last year I directed our state budget office to begin the most thorough review of the state budget ever conducted.

This performance-based review evaluates the results Missourians receive for their money in every program that our tax dollars fund.

Then I asked our departments to submit plans for how these programs would be changed if their funding was cut by 5, 10, and 15 percent.

This has allowed us to have the most thorough information ever compiled on Missouri state services.

And we have used this information to make the tough budget decisions that lie ahead.

The budget I am recommending today is smaller than the one you approved last year.

The amount of general revenue we have coming in is slowing down.

At the same time, costs for essential services and the population needing those services continue to grow.

Health care costs in Medicaid and for state employees are rising dramatically.

The largest increases are in the pharmacy programs as the cost of prescription drugs continues to escalate.

But if expenses and our served populations are going up and less money is coming in, then we must cut agency budgets.

As you know, we took dramatic steps to reduce state spending twice in 2001.

Altogether, we have reduced spending by $612 million in the year since I took office.

Cuts in administrative costs have been deep -- from 15 to 30 percent in many places.

None of those were easy decisions.

And, unfortunately, all of those decisions together are not enough to keep us living within our means in the face of the deepening recession after September 11th.

The budget for fiscal year 2003 that I am proposing today is also filled with tough decisions.

Today, in order to balance the 2003 fiscal year budget, I am recommending $480 million in core budget cuts.

These cuts demand that state government become smaller.

This new budget reduces the state work force by 688 positions.

Most of these will come from eliminating positions that are currently being held vacant.

We have agonized over this budget.

Our state budget staff and our department heads have provided many new ideas and innovative solutions to stretch our money as far as possible.

I thank them all for their efforts, which have been key to safeguarding vital public services.

Nevertheless, we remain in a position in which entire programs -- good programs -- will be eliminated.

Our state employees, who work so hard to deliver our state services, will go another year without a pay raise.

I regret that very much.

We value the work our state employees do on behalf of all Missourians, and we take actions that will affect their quality of life only as a last resort in these extremely challenging times.

And while I have made hard decisions, I am not willing to cut our budget so deeply that we leave our most vulnerable Missourians defenseless.

These are services that any just and humane society should provide to those less fortunate if at all possible -- such as psychiatric services for our mentally ill, support services for the mentally and developmentally disabled, and transportation for our seniors.

We must and will continue to meet these needs.

That is why I am calling on the General Assembly to authorize the release of $135 million from the state's Rainy Day Fund so we do not put these Missourians at risk.

Such services are not mandated by law.

But they are mandated by our conscience.

Although our rocky economic climate demands that we make substantial cuts, we are using what resources we have to accomplish a number of very worthwhile goals.

We will deliver the Senior Prescription Drug Program we promised our seniors when we passed legislation last year during special session.

We will protect our most vulnerable children by not reducing the number of child abuse and neglect workers.

We will improve our security against terrorism throughout the state.

We will keep our commitment to our farmers by continuing to support the expansion of ethanol production in Missouri.

Because inmate population growth demands it, we will open the prison in Bonne Terre.

We must ensure that all our prisons are properly staffed to protect the security of our citizens and the safety of our employees.

We will preserve funding for our 115 local health agencies, that are the frontline in the delivery of public health services.

And we will ensure that no child will lose health insurance coverage.

I am also asking the General Assembly to give us the authorization to bond against future tobacco revenues to provide an alternative to fund critical services.

Several states have already done this.

This means we will have the ability to take some of our settlement in one lump sum if we need it, rather than having it spread out over many years.

In the year since I took office, we have made many improvements in the efficiency and management of state government, and many more improvements are in progress.

To intensify this effort, I will ask both state employees and private citizens to join task forces that I will create to improve performance in key areas of state government.

These teams will develop action plans to streamline state government in each vital area before this current fiscal year is over.

I also call on you to give our department directors more flexibility in running their departments.

They have the most complete and up-to-date information about where resources can best be used and need additional flexibility to manage through the core cuts in this budget.

We are already doing more than ever before to make state officials accountable for results.

We need to give them the tools to get the job done.

Greater flexibility will enable them to focus resources on the area of most concern at any time --whether that is expenses, equipment, or personnel.

I would also like to see the General Assembly take a more proactive approach to reviewing laws.

We need to ensure that both new legislation and existing state laws to fund programs are reviewed regularly.

Rather than allowing programs to live forever, I want these programs to “sunset” unless the legislature and the Governor decide that their value exceeds the cost to taxpayers.

EDUCATION

Even in tough economic times, the key to overcoming the challenges that lie ahead of us is to give our children the good education they deserve.

That’s the one advantage no one can take away from you.

My parents believed that, and so do I.

They knew that with an excellent education, my brothers, my sister, and I would be better prepared for any obstacles that came our way and would have the opportunity for a better life.

Just as then, in today’s challenging times, we must make it possible for our children’s dreams to direct their destiny.

Linda, I was just at your school in Jackson a few weeks ago.

Who knows what other Linda Godwins are out there in our Missouri classrooms?

But they can only fulfill their dreams if we give them a world class education.

Because of Missouri’s public education, Linda Godwin was able to reach for the stars.

Lori and I want that for our boys and every boy and girl in Missouri.

We should not, and I will not, shortchange our K-12 public schools.

My top priority this year is to provide the increased funding necessary to meet our commitment to Missouri's public schools.

So I am asking you, the members of the General Assembly, to join me in supporting a legislative funding package.

This package increases revenues paid to the state by riverboats, closes administrative loopholes in our tax system, maximizes lottery revenues, and creates a new means of maximizing our revenues during this fiscal year -- tax amnesty.

But with our state straining to get the most out of every dollar, our state funding for education must be linked to increased accountability.

In August 1992, Missourians voted to require all of the net proceeds of our state lottery to go completely to education.

To assure voters that their wishes are being followed and eliminate any question about it, I will ask our State Auditor to conduct an audit of all lottery and riverboat gaming proceeds annually.

This will include a complete review of all constitutional and statutory requirements that direct where proceeds are legally mandated to go.

This audit must be completed by the last day of December of every year.

Full funding tied to full accountability means full value for our investment.

The best way we can improve our schools is by enhancing accountability standards at the schools that are not performing as well as others, and cutting red tape for those schools that are doing well.

Recently, we unveiled my unprecedented plan.

It requires underperforming schools to map out a comprehensive strategy to correct problem areas.

They must do so to receive continued state funding.

My reforms will ensure that teachers and individual schools in these districts have the professional development tools at their disposal to do the best job.

I want our underperforming schools to target at least one of a range of reforms that have demonstrated that they improve student performance.

One of the following strategies, proven to be successful, has to be implemented in these schools: reduction of class size in problem areas to allow teachers more time for individual student attention;

- preschool and full-day kindergarten to enable young students to get off to a good start;
- the hiring of teacher specialists to provide additional attention to those subject areas where improvement is necessary to address poor achievement;
- after-school programs, summer school programs, and one-on-one tutoring to provide underperforming students with the help they need to improve their chances for success;

- and reduction of school size or the establishment of schools within schools or alternative schools to improve the learning environment.

In this way, each school can target a plan to address its own unique problems.

This is not a one-size-fits-all solution.

Local schools know better than we do here in Jefferson City what they need to do to improve their own students' performance.

Our mission will be to set the standards to ensure that local accountability leads to improved performance in these priority schools.

I ask for your help and support in this effort.

Because I believe these reforms are vital for Missouri's future.

Lori and I will be carrying this message to schools and communities all across our state over the next few months.

With these unparalleled reforms, we can make Missouri's public schools among the best in the nation.

We can shape the well-educated, productive work force that will ensure Missouri's future.

We cannot afford to be satisfied with anything less -- no more excuses.

SECURITY

After the death and destruction of September 11th, Missourians stepped up to meet the challenge of keeping our citizens safe.

We have refused to allow terrorist threats to disrupt our way of life.

We must now go about our business with new safeguards in place to protect the security of all Missourians.

We want to do all that we can to be prepared for any future acts of terrorism.

I am proud that Missouri is being held up as a model state in the way we responded to the events of September 11th.

We were the first state to appoint a cabinet level Special Advisor on Homeland Security to coordinate our state security efforts.

And I want to congratulate Colonel Tim Daniel for the great job he is doing.

Colonel Daniel, would you please stand so we can acknowledge you for your work.

Another individual who is responsible for the high marks we are receiving after September 11th is our Director of Health and Senior Services, Dr. Maureen Dempsey.

We are the only state to establish an agreement between our Department of Health and Senior Services and the FBI to investigate possible criminal actions where chemical or biological agents are present.

And I want to commend Dr. Dempsey for her fine work.

Dr. Dempsey, would you please stand.

We were among the first states in the nation to appoint a State Security Panel to assess our security needs.

I look forward to reviewing their recommendations in two days, and I will be recommending new legislation this year based on their ideas.

As you know, I have already proposed several initiatives.

We must make it a felony crime to make false terrorist threats.

And we must make those who try to take advantage of Missourians with price gouging during state emergencies pay dearly for this abuse.

And I have made certain that everyone understands that our new state health lab, which is sorely needed, is moving forward as planned and on schedule.

Construction will begin as originally planned in 2003.

After studying our Missouri Security Panel's report thoroughly, I will urge you to support appropriate changes to our criminal codes and public health laws to protect our citizens.

I want Missouri to send a clear message that we will not tolerate assaults on our democracy.

We will not be bullied.

We will not be threatened.

We will not be stopped.

CONCLUSION

We as a nation are still in the process of overcoming the challenges left in the aftermath of September 11th.

But sometimes our challenges go beyond the personal.

As we have seen so dramatically in the months since September 11th, sometimes we are called upon to meet great challenges from without, as well as from within.

One of those people who has been directly involved with those efforts in New York is the Missourian who is with me today.

Dante Glinecki, who works at our State Emergency Management Agency, has a special skill that is very much needed in times of terrible disaster.

At such times everyone, everywhere, wants to offer food, clothing, and other help.

Delivering those goods in a timely and effective way to those who need them is a tremendous challenge.

Without a system to match relief with recipients, the good intentions and donations of millions can quickly go to waste.

From his organizational relief work during the Missouri floods and similar assistance in other state emergency situations, Dante gained a national reputation as one of the leading authorities in this area.

So when disaster struck in New York, they called for him by name.

And, of course, he went.

Dante not only played a key role in helping the New York recovery efforts, but also had the opportunity to witness, in a very personal way, the victory we have experienced as a democracy following September 11th.

He saw that those who sought to bring us down actually lifted us up.

He saw Americans come together after those horrible events to reaffirm the strength of our democracy.

He proudly represented all of us in New York, and we are proud of him.

Please join me in saluting Dante Glinecki.

Dante, would you please stand.

Dante demonstrated the resolve of all Missourians in responding to a dramatic challenge.

In my first year as Governor, I have seen that same resolve in so many Missourians who make a difference for all of us every day.

One of the programs I initiated in our schools after September 11th was a program called Adopt-A-Hero.

I wanted our schoolchildren to be more aware of how many wonderful role models are right there among them.

I called on them to pick someone out of their community who was making a significant difference in other people's lives.

Many schools responded.

Many heroes have been named.

Dante was adopted by Scullin Elementary School in St. Louis.

And there are many more.

There is the fifth-grader who saved his birthday and allowance money to buy a wheelchair for a 7-year-old boy from Turkey.

There is the retired teacher who returned to the classroom full-time when the teacher of a fourth-grade class was shot and killed at a shopping mall.

There are the firefighter and the police officer who give so much of their time working to improve the safety of their local schools.

Several of these heroes are with us today along with some of the students who adopted them.

I'd like them to stand up in the back gallery so we can give them a proper welcome.

All across this great state, Missourians are working together to make a difference...overcoming challenges every day.

Today, you have met many Missouri heroes who are leading by example.

As we strive to meet the challenges of the coming year, we in this chamber also must lead by example.

We have demonstrated we can.

We proved it just last year with our women's health initiative and senior prescription drug relief bill, when we put politics aside to do what is right for Missouri.

Now, in this difficult budget year, working together is more important than ever.

Many of you are sitting in these chambers for your last session-- 73 in the House and 12 in the Senate.

On behalf of Missourians everywhere, I want to thank you for your dedicated public service.

But I also call on you to make these final days of service truly matter.

Let this session be your finest hour.

There is much we can accomplish.

I've lived through hard times.

And many of you and your families have lived through hard times, too.

But we never let it get the best of us.

I didn't then, and I'm not about to now.

Certainly, the challenges we are facing today will test us.

But by overcoming them, we become stronger.

We can make Missouri better by working smarter and harder.

Let's roll up our sleeves and get started.

Let's meet the challenges head on.

Let's get the job done.

And let's do it in a way that will make Missourians proud.

Thank you.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Kenney.

Representative Scheve assumed the Chair.

Gracious God, how excellent is Your name in all the Earth. Bless with Your power and presence, these men and women of the House, and their staff. Give to them the measure of patience and insight they require to do the people's business. Protect them from giving up on the things that are important, and help them let go of those things that are trivial. Keep them, and their families, in this new day.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

LETTER OF RESIGNATION

January 25, 2002

Speaker Jim Kreider:
Missouri House of Representatives
State Capitol Building
201 Capitol Ave.
Room 308
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Mr. Speaker:

Please accept my letter of resignation as State Representative of the 82nd District effective 4:15 p.m., Monday, January 28, 2002. It has been a privilege and an honor to serve my neighbors and the state of Missouri for the last seven plus years.

My personal responsibilities have grown to a point where I am unable to meet the high standards that I have set for myself since entering this office in 1995.

My resignation now will allow the Governor to call for a special election at the earliest possible date, hence minimizing the time my constituents will be without an elected representative.

It has been a tremendous life-changing experience to serve in the Missouri House of Representatives.

Sincerely,

/s/ David L. Levin

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Betty Thompson.

Thank God for another day, one that you and I have never seen before.

I ask God to bless our Speaker who is the keeper of this House, and our legislators and families that we may be good and faithful servants of the people, who we represent.

God, we ask that You put Your arms around us during these tough times of budget cuts. We're not perfect, but we serve a perfect God, so continue to protect our children, senior citizens, disabled, veterans, and the people of this great state.

We ask these blessings in Your name. We shall walk together children and don't get weary. There will be a great day coming in the Promised Land. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Caroline Francis, Bridgette Stephens, Ben Truesdell, James Hyatt, Karis Sims, Paul Messmer, Cole Abel, Daniel Wakefield, Adam Magee, Martha Hensel, Lucia Bourgeois, Jordan Isgriggs and James Keathley.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Jim Murphy.

Let us bow our heads.

Dear Lord, let us remember that we as legislators are here not for our sake, but for the well being of others. We as legislators are entrusted with advancing the quality of life of the five million people of our great state.

May we follow the example You set dear Lord, when in anger You threw the money changers out of the temple. May we likewise throw out from this Capitol anyone who would manipulate us for their own gain.

With Thy help that can be done. In You we put our trust. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twelfth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FOURTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Pat Kelley (47).

Gracious and Almighty God, we thank You for the air we breathe, the water we drink, the food we eat, for families and friends, preachers and teachers who have taught us about life and about You. We thank You for Your Word, Your Laws, Your moral Principles and Your Amazing Grace.

We, however, are all like the sheep that have gone astray. We have all sinned and fallen short of Your glory. We read the paper and neglect the Bible, we give speeches, but forget to pray, we use Your name more in vain than in reverence, we spend our time pursuing the desires of our hearts and have little time left to spend with You. We spend thousands on things and give You pennies. Our marriages, too often end in divorce. We produce children who, too often, are not allowed to be born. We neglect to teach our children about You. We disobey your laws, ignore Your teachings, and pursue our own ways.

Then we wonder what went wrong; why do we face so many problems. Oh Lord, we pray today that all of the people in this room, in our families and friends, in our communities, our state and our nation would recognize the error of our ways. We pray that in our newfound patriotism and unity of purpose, we will humble ourselves and pray, and seek Your face and turn from our wicked ways. We pray, O Lord, You will hear our prayers, forgive our sins and heal our land. We pray that we will recognize that You are our hope, and that we will believe in You, obey You, trust in You and follow You to the abundant life You want for us and to eternal life in Heaven.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as corrected.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 134

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives occasionally pause in their diverse duties and responsibilities in order to acknowledge the spectacular attainments of Show-Me State college students who bring honor and glory to this state through the quality of their extracurricular competitive activities; and

WHEREAS, the Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) team at Drury University in Springfield, Missouri, enjoyed a year-long series of accomplishments during the 2000-2001 school year, including the operation of an on-campus "Smal-Mart" convenience store for which team members had complete responsibility for negotiating contracts with suppliers, designing cash collection and accounting procedures, loss control, and security; continued development and operation of the "YEA!" web-based Young Entrepreneurs Association which is devoted to free enterprise education for middle school teachers and students, has grown to include 510 schools in 17 countries and all 50 states, and includes a real-time stock market simulation and hundreds of lesson plans and activities designed and tested by SIFE students; and the "Building for Tomorrow" program which began as pen-pal relationships with at-risk middle school students in Laredo, Texas, and culminated with a visit to Laredo to conduct a three-day educational program built around the principles of free enterprise, ethical marketing, entrepreneurship, and a "mercado" in which 800 customers purchased products designed and produced by the middle school students; and

WHEREAS, after garnering a wealth of experience and knowledge throughout the school year, Drury University SIFE students attended the SIFE USA Championships at Bartle Hall in Kansas City where they competed against 111 four-year colleges and universities and took Top Honors for their multimedia presentation detailing their accomplishments of the year; and

WHEREAS, in their well-deserved role as SIFE USA Champion, the Drury University team represented their country at the inaugural SIFE World Cup event which was held in London, England, on July 11 through July 13, 2001, with teams from twenty-three nations competing and which added another First Place victory to the SIFE team's roster of successful activities:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-first General Assembly, join unanimously to applaud the impressive, groundbreaking achievements of the Students in Free Enterprise team fielded by Drury University during the 2000-2001 school year and to convey to all thirty-five students and their coach this legislative body's heartiest congratulations for taking First Place at the SIFE USA Championships and subsequently earning the SIFE World Cup in international competition; and

---

FIFTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Lord, we are distressed that our St. Louis Rams did not come home victors, despite their bravest of efforts. As important as that game might be to our state's self-esteem, remind us that life is more than sport. Confer a blessing on these representatives. Aid them to continue on the playing field of elective office following the rules of fair-play and self-respect. Keep their minds and hearts on the many goal posts - liberty, personal dignity, life, democracy, justice, and so forth.

So may all the state of Missouri and its many citizens be winners today and always. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

SIXTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God, You create us in such a range of diversity. Yet our bodies have such similar needs, as do our souls. Continue to invite us to co-create, with You, a new and even better order. Help our judgement know that each human person can fit into the harmony and prosperity of the social fabric of our state.

We count on Your presence again today in all the rooms of our state Capitol here, and perhaps more significantly in those accommodations within the minds and hearts of these representatives. May they have great wisdom, inner direction, and the courage of their convictions. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Cam Branson, Eric Eubank, Erika White, Ryan White, Kayla Henderson, Bryce Sullens, Brooke Sullens, Erin Rademan, Jordan Imhoff, Morgan Nacy, Kayla Sappington, Kylie Werner, Heather Werner, Leslie Werner, Jessica Champlain, Anthony Lombardo, Hannah Valeu, Robert Lofton, Brian Neumann, Tyler Neumann, Taylor Kusmanoff and Kayla Capuano.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 161

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives hold in high esteem those Show-Me State residents who have admirably utilized their artistic abilities and their community-oriented vision to spark a heightened sense of awareness in students for the importance of education and preparation for the future; and

WHEREAS, the St. Lunatics rap group of St. Louis is composed of Nelly, Ali, Kyjuan, Murphy Lee, and Slo-Down; and

WHEREAS, increasingly known locally and throughout the state advocating the importance of education, the St. Lunatics have entered the fray for educational excellence by challenging Missouri students to prepare for and to take the state's MAP exams which are intended to measure successful academic performance at all teaching levels and in all school districts; and

WHEREAS, the five St. Lunatics have courageously agreed to play a game of basketball against the team of any school where a large percentage of the students have taken the required MAP exams; and

WHEREAS, this tremendously successful ploy on the part of the nationally famous and much beloved St. Louis hip-hop group is coupled with area school district requirements that only students who have taken MAP tests are allowed into extracurricular athletic contests as either participants or observers; and

WHEREAS, St. Lunatics' achievements as advocates of education are second only to the cultural and commercial successes the group has enjoyed with their single, "Gimme What Ya Got"; their debut disc, Free City, with its immediately popular recordings of "Midwest Swing", "Groovin Tonight", and "Let Me In Now"; and Nelly's multi-platinum debut, Country Grammar, which featured contributions by St. Lunatics colleagues, the Teamsters, Lil' Wayne, and Cedric the Entertainer:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-first General Assembly, join unanimously to applaud the significant efforts undertaken by the members of St. Lunatics to improve the percentage of students taking the state's MAP academic performance tests and to convey to each of the rappers our heartiest congratulations for the effectiveness of their student challenge and our sincerest best wishes for success on the basketball court against area varsity teams; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution in honor of the St. Lunatics rap group and its members' role as true advocates of education in Missouri.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

SEVENTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Merciful God, as these representatives gather today, bless them with a great portion of inner peace, wisdom, and emotional strength to do, in the best way they can, what they have been elected to do. Let them think for a moment of the constituents back in their home districts, the men and women on farms, in village, town, and city who chose these good people as their best hope here in our legislature.

These chosen ask for the grace to preserve what needs saving back home, and strength to help change those things that in any way threaten life or liberty or the pursuit of happiness. So may they do. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

EIGHTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

From the Psalms of The Hebrew Scriptures we read: "All the heavens declare your glory, and all the earth Your handiwork." Lord, we can't do much about Your heavens, but You've put us in some charge of the earth. As these women and men try to improve the lot of our earthly society in Missouri, we ask Your aid and succor. We finish another legislative week today. We pray for safety and health for our citizens back home, safe travel for our representatives to their homes for the weekend, happiness and spiritual prosperity in their families, and we count on Your assistance in facilitating those laws and statutes which pass their way this day. Help us always to mirror more closely Your heavenly commonwealth. AMEN.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Chris Jackson, Megan Bogle, Daniel Ortiz, Danielle Halbert and Pamela Williams.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as corrected.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

REORGANIZATION PLAN NO. 1

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI:

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the State of Missouri, including the Omnibus State Reorganization Act of 1974 and sections 26.500 through 26.540, RSMo, I hereby transmit Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 2002, by Executive Order 02-03, providing for the re-establishment of the Motor Carrier Services Unit in the Department of Transportation.

/s/ Bob Holden

EXECUTIVE ORDER 02-03

WHEREAS, the Department of Transportation's Motor Carrier Services Unit is currently the state agency designated to issue permits to commercial motor vehicles for oversize and overweight vehicles, conduct the house-moving permit system, and issue bridge-stress studies and administer other road-safety programs for the citizens of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Economic Development, Division of Motor Carrier and Railroad Safety currently administers the Federal Single State Registration Program (SSRS) for commercial motor vehicles, the railroad and light rail safety program, the regulation of household goods and passenger transportation, and other safety, insurance and training programs in relation to commercial motor vehicles for the citizens of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Natural Resources issues hazardous waste transporter licenses and waste tire hauling permits to commercial motor vehicles for the hauling of such material for the benefit of Missouri citizens; and

WHEREAS, these agencies have worked closely together in the past; and

WHEREAS, consolidation of the commercial motor vehicle licensing and permit programs currently administered by the Division of Motor Carrier and Railroad Safety, the Highway Reciprocity Commission, the Department of Transportation's Motor Carrier Services Unit, and the Department of Natural Resources' hazardous waste transporter licensing and waste tire permit functions in one state agency will benefit the citizens of the state by promoting efficiency and eliminating duplication of activities and administrative costs; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Transportation currently compiles statistical information which is essential to the efficient operation of the transportation system; and

WHEREAS, combining the research and analysis functions of the Department of Transportation with other commercial motor vehicle licensing and permitting programs will result in a single point of contact for the motor carrier industry and a better consolidation of the functions relating to commercial motor vehicle licensing, permitting, regulation, safety and travel and would benefit the citizens of the state by further promoting safer and more efficient use of our highways by commercial motor vehicles.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, BOB HOLDEN, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the constitution and laws of the state of Missouri, do hereby re-establish the Motor Carrier Services Unit within the Department of Transportation. Division of Motor Carrier and Railroad Safety within the Department of Economic Development, and 2. Highway Reciprocity Commission within the Department of Revenue are hereby transferred by a Type I transfer to the Division of Motor Carrier Services within the Department of Transportation. The authority of the Administrative Law Judge shall be as currently provided in statute.

The personnel, receipts and property of this unit will remain at the Department of Natural Resources. The Department of Natural Resources shall continue to exist and perform its functions and duties related to the preservation of the state's land and water resources with the exception of issuing hazardous waste transporter licenses and waste tire hauling permits, for which it shall contract with the Department of Transportation.

The Motor Carrier Services Unit shall maintain a working relationship with the Department of Natural Resources for future improvements and upgrades to the hazardous waste transporter licensing and waste tire hauling permitting functions. The Division of Motor Carrier and Railroad Safety within the Department of Economic Development and the Highway Reciprocity Commission within the Department of Revenue are abrogated.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

NINETEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Heavenly God, decisions made in grace rather than in selfishness, out of a goal of service and not for dominance, seem to ring more true to Your wise and compassionate plan. We request Your continued presence in this Chamber today and all this week, God, that our representatives may center these deliberations, judgements, and votes with just such motive and toward such a goal.

So may Your spirit live here and continue to enliven the people of Missouri with life, love, and happiness. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 40

WHEREAS, there are more than 33,000 jobs in the motor vehicle and equipment manufacturing industry in Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the most recent figures for complete employment and wage data reveal a contribution of more than one and three-quarter billion dollars to the Missouri economy; and

WHEREAS, the state of Missouri has enjoyed a long-term partnership and mutually supportive relationship with Ford Motor Company; and

WHEREAS, this relationship began in 1907 with the opening of a sales and stock operation in St. Louis, the opening of a Ford plant in 1911 in Kansas City followed by the establishment of a Ford Model T plant in St. Louis in 1914; and

WHEREAS, the state of Missouri has long recognized the need for keeping Fords' work force as skilled and productive as possible and thus over the past decade has provided more than twenty-four million dollars in job training funds for the company in Missouri; and

WHEREAS, for more than 40 years, St. Louis had been one of the principal manufacturing satellites of Ford Motor Company; and

WHEREAS, St. Louis holds the distinction as the only metropolitan area outside Michigan with plants from all of the Big Three automakers; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, support the assembly by the Governor of the Task Force on the Ford-Hazelwood Retention and direct the Task Force to immediately develop and execute a strategic plan to obtain the continued occupation and operation of the Hazelwood Ford Assembly Plant by Ford Motor Company; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTIETH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Sometimes, God, the struggles seem overwhelming, the challenges just too obstinate. These men and women, our elected representatives, have much to confront this session. Some, especially those who cannot be with us next session, may be tempted to relinquish some of the battle.

We pray for them especially today and ask You to rally round them that they might continue to give of their best. To all these men and women, honorable in motive and action, give special strength in office or conference today and throughout this legislative session. Help them serve our state and our citizens in whatever way they can. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Nicole Nordwald.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as printed.

Representative Crump suggested the absence of a quorum.

“32.380. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, with respect to taxes administered by the department of revenue, an amnesty from the assessment or payment of all penalties, additions to tax and interest shall apply with respect to unpaid taxes reported and paid in full during the period from August 1, 2002, through and including September 30, 2002, regardless of whether previously assessed, except for penalties, additions and interest already paid before such date. This amnesty shall only apply to state tax liabilities due but unpaid on or before December 31, 2001, and shall not extend to any taxpayer who at the time of payment:

(a) Is a party to any criminal investigations or to any civil or criminal litigation that is pending in any court of the United States or the state of Missouri for nonpayment, delinquency, or fraud in relation to any state tax imposed by Missouri law;

(b) Is a party to an appeal with the Administrative Hearing Commission; or

No tax payment pursuant to this section shall be eligible for refund or credit.

6. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to disallow the department to adjust a taxpayer’s return as a result of a state or federal audit.

7. The department may promulgate such rules or regulations or issue administrative guidelines as are necessary to administer the provisions of this section. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated pursuant to the authority of this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God, we give thanks for life this day and for the life of our families, friends and all in this state. Bless the men and women of the House and their staff, as they seek to be useful in serving others. Strengthen them in all good and protect them from meanness of spirit. As they set to work, we offer the prayer of Reinhold Niebhr:

God, grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change,
The courage to change the things I can,
And the wisdom to know the difference.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as corrected.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 37

WHEREAS, cancer is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality in the State of Missouri and throughout the Nation; and

WHEREAS, cancer is disproportionately a disease of the elderly, with more than half of all cancer diagnoses occurring in persons 65 years of age or older who are thus dependent on the federal Medicare program for provision of cancer care; and

WHEREAS, since treatment with anti-cancer drugs is the cornerstone of modern cancer care, elderly cancer patients must have access to potentially life-extending drug therapy, but the Medicare program's coverage of drugs is limited to injectable drugs or oral drugs that have an injectable version; and

WHEREAS, the Nation's investment in biomedical research has begun to bear fruit with a compelling array of new oral anti-cancer drugs that are less toxic, more effective, and more cost-effective than existing therapies, but because such drugs do not have an injectable equivalent, they are not covered by Medicare; and

WHEREAS, noncoverage of these important new products leaves many Medicare beneficiaries confronting the choice of either substantial out-of-pocket personal costs or selection of more toxic, less effective treatments that are covered by the program; and

WHEREAS, Medicare's failure to cover oral anti-cancer drugs leaves at risk many beneficiaries suffering from blood-related cancers like leukemia, lymphoma, and myeloma, as well as cancers of the breast, lung, and prostate; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the United States Congress have recognized the necessity of Medicare coverage for all oral anti-cancer drugs and introduced legislation in the 107th Congress to achieve such result (H.R. 1624 and S. 913):

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, respectfully urge the United States Congress to adopt legislation requiring the Medicare program to cover all oral anti-cancer drugs; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Lord of Life, we live and move in Your world and by Your grace. Grant to us this day, that we may face what You send, with the strength You supply, when called to be faithful and loyal, let us not seek a way around You and, may the sins of yesterday not be repeated this day.

Grant to these men and women of the House and their staff, that they find friendship, laughter and good work before them. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-first day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Around us, God, we see extremes of materialism, egotism, and pride glaring at the selflessness and humility of so many of the good people of the state of Missouri. Aid our representatives today to help all of us become even better citizens.

Gracious God, You give us all that we need for life and happiness. Every good gift is by Your design. Help us to serve You as You deserve:

To give and not count the cost;
To struggle and not count the wounds;
To work and not seek reward but to know that we do Your will.

Bless this House today with confidence that they are in Your love and are seeking Your will. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Lord, our God, if we open up our eyes and look around we see a wealth of assets. The minds, talents, and experiences here in this Chamber, for example, whether of the same political party or not, the people of Missouri, the great material beauty and richness of our state – all this evokes wonder at Your generosity.

We are a people and a state flowing in many ways with milk and honey. This is Your trust to us. We are grateful. May we be equally responsible. Help us to continue to discover proper means to expand on all this, that we might reflect the trust You have put in us. May the laws passed in this Chamber protect, defend, and build up the multitude of temporal and spiritual blessings You have given us. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and passed SCS HS HCS HBs 1037, 1188, 1074 & 1271, entitled:

An act to replace section 556.036, RSMo, relating to sexual offenses, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to the same subject, with penalty provisions and an emergency clause.

Emergency clause adopted.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 35.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 35

WHEREAS, under the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, Congress mandated that ambulance services be placed on a fee schedule for Medicare reimbursement; and

WHEREAS, to develop the fee schedule, Congress required that a Negotiated Rulemaking Committee be convened to establish certain policies of the fee schedule and implementation of the rule establishing this fee schedule is planned for April of 2002; and

WHEREAS, the fee schedule is based on four-year old cost data, and additionally, Medicare will only pay 80% of the lesser amount of either the actual charge from the ambulance provider or the Fee Schedule Amount and the patient will be responsible for the remaining 20%;

WHEREAS, Ambulance services will no longer be able to bill the patient any amount beyond the 20% coinsurance and any unmet deductible, then ambulance services will have to absorb any cost over and above the fee schedule amount; and

WHEREAS, by requiring the Medicare schedule to be accepted as total payment, providers (including hospitals, public utility model systems and private operators) who have had low Medicare allowable charges will not be able to balance-bill the patients for the difference and the burden will be on the ambulance service to shoulder the reimbursement that is below today's costs or stop providing service, and the Schedule requires reimbursement at a basic life support rate for some procedures that are considered to be advanced life support measures; and

WHEREAS, although national practice standards and state training requirements mandate that some procedures be performed by paramedics, the Medicare program will only pay for the service at the basic, EMT rate, thus, ambulance services will have to further supplement the cost of services by paying the higher paramedic salary for services that will be reimbursed at the lower EMT allowable cost, or discontinue offering the higher level of emergency care; and

WHEREAS, the revised fee takes effect immediately in April, 2002, and the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services will not allow a transition period for providers who in the past have billed runs at the paramedic (advanced life support) level on every call because of local ordinances that require advanced life support on every call; and

WHEREAS, local communities will have to decide if they are going to continue to require services to provide the advanced life support level of care, and since Medicare is reducing support for this higher level of care, communities may have to downgrade to a basic life support, thereby decreasing the level of emergency care available to Missourians:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-First General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge Congress to redesign the ambulance fee schedule for Medicare reimbursement to take into consideration current actual cost data and support of advanced life support emergency medical services because without these considerations, Missourians cannot be assured that they will receive the level of medical services they need in times of a medical emergency; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the President Pro Tem has appointed the following Conference Committee to act with a like Committee from the House on HCS SS #2 SB 650: Senators Singleton, Klarich, Klindt, House and Caskey.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and passed SCS SB 756, entitled:

An act to amend chapter 171, RSMo, by adding thereto one new section relating to school absences for participation in the Missouri state fair.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God: we thank You for the rich heritage of this Chamber and those who labored here, before us, to serve the people of Missouri. They came from towns and cities, with varied backgrounds, to work and act for Missouri, remembering especially pioneering African-American legislators. We pray for our state with full hearts, and for those who labor here today for the common good.

Bless, with the gift of patience and understanding, these men and women of this House and those who support them. At times they are cast in difficult situations with the heavy strains of compromise and decision. Keep them this day by Your grace, so they may speak straight, be compassionate, and lead us in trying times.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kyle West, Alex Burfield, Matt Garrett, Jordan Henningsen, Sam Kennedy, Ian Kidwell, Taylor Price, Brett Russell, Ethan Kearbey, Ashli Wallace, Jeffrey Walker Smith, Adam Barker, Evan Barwick, Matt Boyers, Kelsey Brown, Chris Drury, Sheldon Price, Joshua Rathbun, Brian Richardson, Perry Salyer, James Sorrell and Jonathan Varner.

The Journal of the twenty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 485

WHEREAS, it is with profound sadness that the Missouri House of Representatives pauses in its legislative activities in order to note the passing of an esteemed Show-Me State public safety officer who lost his life in the line of duty; and

WHEREAS, Missouri State Highway Patrol Trooper Kelly L. Poynter was born on the festive winter holiday of December Twenty-fifth, 1974, in the south central Missouri community of Lebanon, which welcomed him with open arms and enjoyed watching him commit himself wholeheartedly to a course of study which resulted in his graduation from Lebanon R-III Senior High School in 1993; and

WHEREAS, following the completion of his secondary education, Kelly Poynter continued to apply himself diligently to make the most of his educational opportunities and earn an Associate of Arts degree in criminal justice from Mineral Area College and then successfully make his way through the Missouri State Highway Patrol Law Enforcement Academy in 1996; and

WHEREAS, proudly donning the blue uniform of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, Trooper Kelly Poynter was first assigned to Troop G, Zone 4, in Carter County, and was subsequently transferred to Troop G, Zone 2, in Houston; and

WHEREAS, on January 18, 2002, Trooper Kelly Poynter was fulfilling his sworn duties and responsibilities as a law enforcement officer by coming to the assistance of individuals involved in a traffic crash on U.S. Highway 63 two miles south of Houston when he was struck and killed by a drunk driver; and

WHEREAS, the twenty-second member of the Missouri State Highway Patrol to be killed while on duty, Trooper Poynter leaves behind his loving wife, Alison, and their two small children whose grief at this terrible loss in their lives can be tenderly assuaged by remembering the utmost care and professionalism with which their loved one conducted himself in his daily endeavors:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTIETH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious Lord: we are thankful for the life You give us this day, and we commend to Your care all who are in special need. We pray for those who are hammered daily on the anvil of prejudice and hate; all who are aged and infirm or handicapped, for our school children; and all whose lives are twisted by fear, by temptation, by addiction or by greed.

Bless now, Eternal Lord, these men and women of the House. Protect them from a spirit of indifference to the neediest, the most vulnerable and the helpless. Confirm them in their compassion, their highest values and keep before them their opportunity to make a difference.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ryan Scherr, Paige Cook, Zach McCrady, Anthony Harris and Amanda Moore.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 4, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Lord, after a weekend of cold and snow, we ask for Your warmth and sunlight this week. Give these men and women wise political substance, and underneath that, tough spiritual muscle. Through the give and take of this Chamber, through the hearings and the caucuses, the state's business is done.

That commerce, Lord, is not only for material success, but also for the dynamism of the spirit which makes life really precious. We accept the challenges these five days will bring. Let the week begin with You, God, and end even closer to You. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kyle Banderma, Kraig Turner, Laci Roberts, Sarah Davenport, Eden Perez and Ryan Scherr.

The Journal of the thirtieth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Walter Simpson, Retired from First Christian Church, Eldon, Missouri.

“Jehovah,” “Adonai,” “Allah”, it makes no difference what we name You. You are still the God of the universe and indeed the God of all people. It is not You, but us, who have put our own opinions and judgments of who You are that has divided us from one another. Forgive us of the audacity and the presumptuousness on our part. Bring our world back together in peace and harmonious relationships.

For those who have given a measure of their days to provide us with the freedom and liberty we enjoy, we give You our constant gratitude. Upon the men and women who are willing today to stand in our stead on the fields of battle, we ask Your divine protection.

In this extremely painful and excessively possessive world in which we live, help us to discard our own agendas and factional designs, that we might work collectively for a more tranquil and untroubled existence. Replace self-centeredness with compassion, narcissism with charity and vanity with wisdom. Teach us to negotiate in good faith for the common good.

Upon this auspicious body let Your encouraging and energizing Spirit stimulate a desire to seek the Good according to Your design for all Your children. Call them to task when they blunder. Smile on them when they succeed. Love when they are unlovable and embrace them when they are willing to venture into areas unpopular, yet essential for the pursuit of happiness of all the residents of our state.

“Jehovah” “Adonai,” “Allah,” One God, let Your favor be upon us, now and forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lauren Henson, James Kelley, Erin Pierce, Wes Mott, Alora Marble, Blake Henry, Rebecca Hopkins, Michael Hopkins, Victoria Grace Kelley, Kristen Kelley, David Housewright, Alica Tape, Brett Johnson, Katie Krick, Cara Stuckel, Alex Stuckel, Jamie Kuhn, Claire Stuckel, Adrienne Tucker, Kim Martin, Drew Jones, Joey Ridenhour, Jacob Randolph, Carol Schaffer, Sarah Heithaus, Tony Mocciola, Alexandra Carter and Rena Cook.

The Journal of the thirty-first day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God: we would know You better than we do, so that we might love and serve You better than we have. Keep us from breaking faith with yesterdays promises or leaving unrepaired yesterdays wrongs.

Protect these men and women of the House from cynicism, and keep them working to improve our state, protect the needy, and care for the dependent. Help them to think clearly and to lead with compassion.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

(2) Not later than the thirtieth day after an election for a period closing on the twenty-fifth day after the election, if the committee has made any contribution or expenditure either in support of or opposition to any candidate or ballot measure; except that, a successful candidate who takes office prior to the twenty-fifth day after the election shall have complied with the report requirement of this subdivision if a disclosure report is filed by such candidate and any candidate committee under the candidate's control before such candidate takes office, and such report shall be for the period closing on the day before taking office; and

(3) Not later than the fifteenth day following the close of each calendar quarter.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, if any committee accepts contributions or makes expenditures in support of or in opposition to a ballot measure or a candidate except a candidate seeking office in any special election occurring on or after January 1, 1999, and the report required by this subsection for the most recent calendar quarter is filed prior to the fortieth day before the election on the measure or candidate, the committee shall file an additional disclosure report not later than the fortieth day before the election for the period closing on the forty-fifth day before the election.

2. In the case of a ballot measure to be qualified to be on the ballot by initiative petition or referendum petition, or a recall petition seeking to remove an incumbent from office, disclosure reports relating to the time for filing such petitions shall be made as follows:

(1) In addition to the disclosure reports required to be filed pursuant to subsection 1 of this section the treasurer of a committee, other than a continuing committee, supporting or opposing a petition effort to qualify a measure to appear on the ballot or to remove an incumbent from office shall file an initial disclosure report fifteen days after the committee begins the process of raising or spending money. After such initial report, the committee shall file quarterly disclosure reports as required by subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section until such time as the reports required by subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section are to be filed. In addition the committee shall file a second disclosure report no later than the fifteenth day after the deadline date for submitting such petition. The period covered in the initial report shall begin on the day the committee first accepted contributions or made expenditures to support or oppose the petition effort for qualification of the measure and shall close on the fifth day prior to the date of the report;

(2) If the measure has qualified to be on the ballot in an election and if a committee subject to the requirements of subdivision (1) of this subsection is also required to file a preelection disclosure report for such election any time within thirty days after the date on which disclosure reports are required to be filed in accordance with subdivision (1) of this subsection, the treasurer of such committee shall not be required to file the report required by subdivision (1) of this subsection, but shall include in the committee's preelection report all information which would otherwise have been required by subdivision (1) of this subsection.

3. The candidate, if applicable, treasurer or deputy treasurer of a committee shall file disclosure reports pursuant to this section, except for any calendar quarter in which the contributions received by the committee or the expenditures or contributions made by the committee do not exceed five hundred dollars. The reporting dates and periods covered for such quarterly reports shall not be later than the fifteenth day of January, April, July and October for periods closing on the thirty-first day of December, the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June and the thirtieth day of September. No candidate, treasurer or deputy treasurer shall be required to file the quarterly disclosure report required not later than the fifteenth day of any January immediately following a November election, provided that such candidate, treasurer or deputy treasurer shall file the information required on such quarterly report on the quarterly report to be filed not later than the fifteenth day of April immediately following such November election. Each report by such committee shall be cumulative from the date of the last report. In the case of the continuing committee's first report, the report shall be cumulative from the date of the continuing committee's organization. Every candidate, treasurer or deputy treasurer shall file, at a minimum, the campaign disclosure reports covering the quarter immediately preceding the date of the election and those required by subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section. A continuing committee shall submit additional reports if it makes aggregate expenditures, other than contributions to a committee, of five hundred dollars or more, within the reporting period at the following times for the following periods:

(1) Not later than the seventh day before an election for the period closing on the twelfth day before the election;
 (2) Not later than forty-eight hours after aggregate expenditures of five hundred dollars or more are made after the twelfth day before the election; and

(3) Not later than the thirtieth day after an election for a period closing on the twenty-fifth day after the election.

4. The reports required to be filed no later than the thirtieth day after an election and any subsequently required report shall be cumulative so as to reflect the total receipts and disbursements of the reporting committee for the entire election campaign in question. The period covered by each disclosure report shall begin on the day after the closing date of the most recent disclosure report filed and end on the closing date for the period covered. If the committee has not previously filed a disclosure report, the period covered begins on the date the committee was formed; except that in the case of a candidate committee, the period covered begins on the date the candidate became a candidate according to the definition of the term candidate in section 130.011.

5. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter to the contrary:

(1) Certain disclosure reports pertaining to any candidate who receives nomination in a primary election and thereby seeks election in the immediately succeeding general election shall not be required in the following cases:

(a) If there are less than fifty days between a primary election and the immediately succeeding general election, the disclosure report required to be filed quarterly; provided that, any other report required to be filed prior to the primary election and all other reports required to be filed not later than the seventh day before the general election are filed no later than the final dates for filing such reports;

(b) If there are less than eighty-five days between a primary election and the immediately succeeding general election, the disclosure report required to be filed not later than the thirtieth day after the primary election need not be filed; provided that any report required to be filed prior to the primary election and any other report required to be filed prior to the general election are filed no later than the final dates for filing such reports; and

(2) No disclosure report needs to be filed for any reporting period if during that reporting period the committee has neither received contributions aggregating more than five hundred dollars nor made expenditure aggregating more than five hundred dollars and has not received contributions aggregating more than two hundred fifty dollars from any single contributor. Any contributions received or expenditures made which are not reported because of this statement is filed in lieu of a disclosure report shall be included in the next disclosure report filed by the committee. A report shall be filed for two or more consecutive disclosure quarters if either the contributions received or expenditures made in the aggregate during those reporting periods exceed five hundred dollars and a report shall be filed not later than the thirtieth day after an election if that report would show a deficit of more than one thousand dollars.

6. (1) If the disclosure report required to be filed by a committee not later than the thirtieth day after an election shows a deficit of unpaid loans and other outstanding obligations in excess of five thousand dollars, semiannual supplemental disclosure reports shall be filed with the appropriate officer for each succeeding semiannual period until the deficit is reported in a disclosure report as being reduced to five thousand dollars or less; except that, a supplemental semiannual report shall not be required for any semiannual period which includes the closing date for the reporting period covered in any regular disclosure report which the committee is required to file in connection with an election. The reporting dates and periods covered for semiannual reports shall be not later than the fifteenth day of January and July for periods closing on the thirty-first day of December and the thirtieth day of June;

(2) Committees required to file reports pursuant to subsection 2 or 3 of this section which are not otherwise required to file disclosure reports for an election shall file semiannual reports as required by this subsection if their last required disclosure report shows a total of unpaid loans and other outstanding obligations in excess of five thousand dollars.

7. In the case of a committee which disbands and is required to file a termination statement pursuant to the provisions of section 130.021 with the appropriate officer not later than the tenth day after the committee was dissolved, the candidate, committee treasurer or deputy treasurer shall attach to the termination statement a complete disclosure report for the period closing on the date of dissolution. A committee shall not utilize the provisions of subsection 8 of section 130.021 or the provisions of this subsection to circumvent or otherwise avoid the reporting requirements of subsection 6 or 7 of this section.

8. Disclosure reports shall be filed with the appropriate officer not later than 5:00 p.m. prevailing local time of the day designated for the filing of the report and a report postmarked not later than midnight of the day previous to the day designated for filing the report shall be deemed to have been filed in a timely manner. The appropriate officer may establish a policy whereby disclosure reports may be filed by facsimile transmission."; and

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

EXECUTIVE OFFICE

TO THE CHIEF CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
91ST GENERAL ASSEMBLY
STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill Nos. 1037, 1188, 1074 & 1271 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To repeal section 556.036, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to statute of limitations for sexual offenses, with penalty provisions and an emergency clause.

On March 6, 2002, I approved said Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill Nos. 1037, 1188, 1074 & 1271.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Bob Holden
Governor

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, during 2001 all major national forecasters envisioned an economy that would begin growing again during the last half of the year and continue with substantial growth during 2002; and

WHEREAS, instead of growing, the economy officially went into recession in April 2001, according to the National Bureau of Economic Research, which recession continues; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the recession and its effects, Missouri and the other states in our nation are struggling through difficult economic times, as demonstrated by the fact that the National Association of State Budget Officers' reports that Fiscal Year 2002 budget shortfalls totaling approximately $40 billion dollars exist in 40 states, the National Conference of State Legislatures reports that at least 37 states and the District of Columbia face potential budget gaps in Fiscal Year 2003, and at least 25 states other than Missouri are using budget reserves in response to budget shortfalls; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri unemployment rate increased to 5.3% in January of 2002 from 4.4% in April 2001, when the recession began, and over 67,500 more Missourians were unemployed in January 2002 than in April 2001, resulting in less tax revenue to the states and an increase in needs for state services among the unemployed and their families; and

WHEREAS, since the terrorist attacks of September 11, economic recovery has been slower and weaker than expected, thereby exacerbating the recession; and

WHEREAS, measures related to homeland security after the attacks of September 11 will cost state and local governments millions of dollars for programs not covered by federal funding; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Congress passed H.R. 1836, The Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001, which will reduce Missouri revenue collections by $21.1 million in Fiscal Year 2002 and by $41.6 million in Fiscal Year 2003; and

WHEREAS, State revenue collections have failed to keep pace with consensus revenue estimates that are agreed upon by the Governor's office and members of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and on which budgets have been built to address programs required by state and federal legislation and to respond to the pressures of a growing and aging population, to wit:

- The Fiscal Year 2002 consensus revenue estimate is $6,419.2 million, a total of $520.8 million below the $6,940 million on which the budget is based,
- The Fiscal Year 2002 consensus revenue estimate is $36.3 million below those actually received in Fiscal Year 2001, a .6 percent decline,
- The Fiscal Year 2003 consensus revenue estimate is $149.5 million over the Fiscal Year 2002 estimate, a relatively anemic 2.3 percent growth,
- The Fiscal Year 2003 consensus revenue estimate is $371.3 million below the amount needed to support the budget approved for Fiscal Year 2002,
- In Fiscal Year 2003 the State of Missouri faced a total of $332.9 million in mandatory cost increases for Medicaid ($157.5 million), corrections ($48.3 million), state employee health care ($13.4 million), and other items; and

WHEREAS, $536 million in budget cuts and withholdings in the Fiscal Year 2002 budget have eliminated or reduced funding throughout the budget, making additional cuts in the core budget very difficult, which cuts and withholdings include:

- Withholding $200.3 million in state agency operating budget spending,
- Withholding $140.7 million in capital improvements spending, mostly for constructing buildings on the campuses of the state's colleges and universities,
- Withholding $82.5 million in spending from the tobacco settlement and redirecting that money to general revenue,
- Vetoes of $26.5 million from the budget,
- Reducing tax credits by $7.5 million,
- Redirecting $48.5 million in unobligated tobacco settlement funds and intergovernmental transfers to general revenue purposes,
- Redirecting $30 million in funds from other state accounts to general revenue; and

WHEREAS, in Fiscal Year 2003 the Governor has recommended $480 million in general revenue core reductions; and

WHEREAS, these core reductions include elimination of entire programs and reductions of 25 percent or more for other programs; and

WHEREAS, failing to provide additional funds by utilizing the budget reserve fund will require eliminating additional programs critical to the health, safety, and welfare of Missouri's most vulnerable citizens, including children, the elderly, and people with physical and mental disabilities; and

WHEREAS, the very purpose of the budget reserve fund, commonly known as the rainy day fund, as approved by the votes of this State, is to provide funds that the State can use in a time of great need, whether that need is occasioned by natural disaster, an economic downturn, or other circumstances, so that the State of Missouri has the ability to weather an economic storm; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution requires that the Governor declare an emergency so that the General Assembly may appropriate funds from the Budget Reserve Fund.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Bob Holden, Governor of the State of Missouri, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Laws of the State of Missouri, including Article III, section 27(a) of the Missouri Constitution and sections 44.010 to 44.130, RSMo, do hereby proclaim that an emergency exists in the State of Missouri as a result of the current economic conditions that prevail in the state of Missouri and the nation, which constitute a disaster of major proportions.

/s/ Bob Holden
Governor

ATTEST:

Secretary of State

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God: You have given us life and placed about and within us all that we need. Help us to be sensitive to Your Spirit brooding over us. Save us from the tensions that break us down.

Keep these men and women of the House, and their staff, in Your mercy this day. And bring Your peace to all who are caught-up in worry and the pressures that drive the House. Grant patience and good humor where it is most needed, and to You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kurt Doenges, Whitley Almond, Brian Eddington, Jennifer Fox, Theodore Kremer, Michelle Valleroy and Zachary Miller.

The Journal of the thirty-third day was approved as printed.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Committee on Banks and Financial Institutions, Chairman Liese reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Banks and Financial Institutions, to which was referred HR 51, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that the House Committee Substitute Do Pass.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 51

WHEREAS, during the interim between the First and Second Regular Sessions of the Ninety-first General Assembly, the House Interim Committee on Consumer Protection and Credit Cards on College Campuses met, took testimony, deliberated, and concluded its investigation of the recent increase in credit card debt among college students in Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the House Interim Committee on Consumer Protection and Credit Cards on College Campuses submitted a report to the Speaker of the House of Representatives which included the recommendations of the committee; and

WHEREAS, technology and consumerism during the last 15 years have combined to make the ownership of a credit card by college students commonplace, while many students may not be ready for the financial responsibility associated with the ownership of a credit card; and

WHEREAS, some credit card companies actively pursue the college student market through displays, free gifts, and the inclusion of application forms in shopping bags, without any obligation to inform the student applicant of the negative aspects of credit cards, the appropriate use of credit cards, or the responsibilities of debt; and

WHEREAS, almost 4 out of every 5 students entering college having never received any kind of school instruction on personal finance and school policies regarding credit card solicitation vary among Missouri's 32 public colleges and universities; and

WHEREAS, while most of the major credit card companies state that they have systems in place to assist cardholders who have trouble with excess debt, there is very little oversight of the practices of credit card companies on college campuses; and

WHEREAS, the recently enacted federal education legislation, H.R.1 (Public Law 107-110), the No Child Left Behind Act, sets aside for the first time federal moneys for personal finance education and financial literacy projects for students in public elementary and secondary schools, with additional funds available to monitor the impact of these programs and train teachers and administrators on financial education matters:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-first General Assembly, urge the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to incorporate personal finance and consumer education into the curriculum for public school grades kindergarten through twelfth, and that the MAP test be adjusted accordingly to test for retention and progress;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we urge the Coordinating Board of Higher Education to require each publicly funded institution of higher learning to establish a written policy on credit card solicitation of college students and address the credit card debt problem experienced by some college students by:

- (1) Limiting or restricting the availability of space to market credit cards on campus;
- (2) Limiting or restricting the number of solicitors allowed on campus;
- (3) Prohibiting specific marketing practices on campus, such as free gifts and applications placed in shopping bags;
- (4) If applications for credit cards are permitted to be placed in shopping bags, including pamphlets on credit card debt in bookstore shopping bags;
- (5) Determining how and whether alumni associations are allowed to solicit undergraduate students on campus and at athletic events; and
- (6) Determining what information credit card companies must provide to students when soliciting on campus, such as the long-term effect of compounded interest and disclosure of fees not prominently contained in the companies' credit card applications and contracts, the fact that the credit card company is not affiliated with the school, and the possible effects of developing a poor credit history; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we urge the Coordinating Board of Higher Education to establish policies to:

- (1) Restrict access to student information by third parties for nonacademic purposes;
- (2) Give students the ability to "opt out" of student listings accessed by credit card companies without an all or nothing approach;
- (3) Have available education on personal finance, credit cards, and debt management as part of the college's orientation or as a regular college course, and include information in student handbooks; and
- (4) The advertisement of the availability of credit counseling for students; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education and the Coordinating Board for Higher Education.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR
HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 11

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri borders 488 miles of the Mississippi River; and

WHEREAS, many of Missouri's locks and dams are more than 60 years old and only 600 feet long, making them unable to accommodate modern barge tows of 1,200 feet long, nearly tripling locking times, and causing lengthy delays and ultimately increasing shipping costs; and

WHEREAS, the use of 1,200-foot locks has been proven nationwide as the best method of improving efficiency, reducing congestion, and modernizing the inland waterways; and

WHEREAS, the construction of the lock and dam system has spurred economic growth and a higher standard of living in the Mississippi and Illinois river basin, and today supplies more than 300 million tons of the nation's cargo, supporting more than 400,000 jobs, including 90,000 in manufacturing; and

WHEREAS, more than 60 percent of American agriculture exports, including corn, wheat, and soybeans, are shipped down the Mississippi and Illinois rivers on the way to foreign markets; and

WHEREAS, Missouri farmers, producers, and consumers rely on efficient transportation to remain competitive in a global economy, and efficiencies in river transport offset higher production costs compared to those incurred by foreign competitors; and

WHEREAS, the Upper Mississippi and Illinois lock and dam system saves our nation more than 1.5 billion dollars in higher transportation costs each year, and failing to construct 1,200-foot locks will cause farmers to use more expensive alternative modes of transportation, including trucks and trains; and

WHEREAS, according to the United States Army Corps of Engineers, congestion along the Upper Mississippi and Illinois rivers is costing Missouri and other producers and consumers in the basin 98 million dollars a year in higher transportation costs; and

WHEREAS, river transportation is the most environmentally friendly form of transporting goods and commodities, creating almost no noise pollution and emitting 35 to 60 percent fewer pollutants than either trucks or trains according to the United States Environmental Protection Agency; and

WHEREAS, moving away from river transport would add millions of trucks and rail cars to our nation's infrastructure, adding air pollution, traffic congestion, and greater wear and tear on highways; and

WHEREAS, backwater lakes created by the lock and dam system provide breeding grounds for migratory waterfowl and fish; and

WHEREAS, the lakes and 500 miles of wildlife refuge also support a billion-dollar-a-year recreational industry, including hunting, fishing, and tourism jobs; and

WHEREAS, upgrading the system of locks and dams on the Upper Mississippi and Illinois rivers will provide 3,000 high-paying construction and related jobs over a 15 to 20 year period with health benefits which will benefit not only those directly employed, but the local health care systems and economies of the communities in which these individuals live and work; and

WHEREAS, in 1999, the State of Missouri shipped 18.8 million tons of commodities, including grain, coal, chemicals, aggregates, and other products; and

WHEREAS, 38.6 million tons of commodities, including grain, coal, chemicals, aggregates, and other products, were shipped to, from, and within Missouri by barge, representing 4.2 billion dollars in value; and

WHEREAS, shippers moving by barge in Missouri realized a savings of approximately $380 million compared to other transportation modes; and

WHEREAS, Missouri docks shipped products by barge to 18 states and received products from 17 states; and

WHEREAS, the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis shipped and received 32.6 million tons of commodities in 1999 worth over 5 billion dollars and is the second busiest inland port in the United States, linking rural Missouri and St. Louis with world markets; and

WHEREAS, there are approximately 183 manufacturing facilities, terminals, and docks on the waterways of Missouri, representing thousands of jobs in this state:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby recognize the importance of inland waterway transportation to Missouri agriculture and industry in the state, the region, and the nation, and urge the United States Congress to authorize funding to construct 1,200-foot locks on the Upper Mississippi and Illinois River System; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Chair of the United States Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, the Chair of the United States House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 11, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Almighty God, our state and nation must remember today the horror and terror of six months ago. For many the anguish and fear still remain fresh. We again call to mind those who gave their lives, their grieving relatives, those who tried to save lives, the people of New York City and all the citizens of our nation.

As we reopen this wound, let us commit ourselves again to lives that build harmony, and laws that reflect that goal. But let us be strong in this commitment as we fight the evil of terrorism with all our energy. Bring even more peace to this extraordinary state in which we live, through the work and dedication of these men and women representatives here, chosen to serve our best interests. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-fourth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

The men and women gathered here, God of freedom and democracy, represent a broad spectrum of opinion and interest from across the state. Encourage these elected officials and our citizenry to be even more informed of all sides of issues and motivated to create and support helpful legislation.

In education, for example, open up for us ways to find the mental, emotional, and physical resources to keep all, from young to old, on the path to more knowledge and understanding. In social concerns, physical upkeep of our state's roads and buildings, in sensible respect in conserving our natural resources, and in so many areas of vital interest, grant this House the wisdom and fortitude to move ahead in those concerns which must be confronted if we are to grow as a state society.

We are now about midpoint in this session. We trust You for guidance and strength. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Drew Vines, Samantha Snyder, Eric Berry, Alisa Richardson, Steven Harris, Lauren Kliethermes, Matt Newman, Leann Botkin, Rachel Dorson, Chris Bartholomew and Josh Perkins.

The Journal of the thirty-fifth day was approved as printed.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 36

WHEREAS, the Joint Interim Committee on Education Funding created by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 26 enacted in the First Regular Session of the Ninety-first General Assembly ceased to exist on January 15, 2002; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Interim Committee on Education Funding was charged with an in-depth review of education finance in this state; and

WHEREAS, by its very nature, education funding is a complex subject that has many interlocking elements that are seldom understood in their entirety; and

WHEREAS, with the best efforts of the Joint Interim Committee on Education Funding, the foundation for further study has been created, but in-depth study will require more time; and

WHEREAS, institutional knowledge of the issues involved in education funding is dwindling, making an in-depth study even more difficult as time passes:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Senate of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Joint Interim Committee on Education Funding be reconstituted with substantially the same membership in a timely fashion so that the in-depth study contemplated in Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 26 enacted in the First Regular Session of the Ninety-first General Assembly may continue and be completed in time to present a thoughtful study and recommendations for future action to the members of the Ninety-second General Assembly so that the constitutional requirement that designates education as the state's first priority in public policy may continue to be fulfilled.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 44.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 44

WHEREAS, the state of Missouri borders 488 miles of the Mississippi River; and

WHEREAS, many of Missouri's locks and dams are more than 60 years old and only 600 feet long, making them unable to accommodate modern barge tows of 1,200 feet long, nearly tripling locking times and causing lengthy delays and ultimately increasing shipping costs; and

WHEREAS, the use of 1,200-foot locks has been proven nationwide as the best method of improving efficiency, reducing congestion and modernizing the inland waterways; and

WHEREAS, the construction of the lock and dam system has spurred economic growth and a higher standard of living in the Mississippi and Illinois' river basin, and today supplies more than 300 million tons of the nation's cargo, supporting more than 400,000 jobs, including 90,000 in manufacturing; and

WHEREAS, more than 60 percent of American agricultural exports including corn, wheat, and soybeans, are shipped down the Mississippi and Illinois rivers on the way to foreign markets; and

WHEREAS, Missouri farmers, producers, and consumers rely on efficient transportation to remain competitive in a global economy, and efficiencies in river transport offset higher production costs compared to those incurred by foreign competitors; and

WHEREAS, the Upper Mississippi and Illinois lock and dam system saves our nation more than $1.5 billion in higher transportation costs each year, and failing to construct 1,200-foot locks will cause farmers to use more expensive alternative modes of transportation, including trucks and trains; and

WHEREAS, according to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, congestion along the Upper Mississippi and Illinois rivers is costing Missouri and other producers and consumers in the basin $98 million per year in higher transportation costs; and

WHEREAS, river transportation is the most environmentally friendly form of transporting goods and commodities, creating almost no noise pollution and emitting 35 to 60 percent fewer pollutants than either trucks or trains, according to the U.S. EPA; and

WHEREAS, moving away from river transport would add millions of trucks and rail cars to our nation's infrastructure, adding air pollution, traffic congestion, and greater wear and tear on highways; and

WHEREAS, backwater lakes created by the lock and dam system provide breeding grounds for migratory waterfowl and fish; and

WHEREAS, the lakes and 500 miles of wildlife refuge also support a $1 billion-a-year recreational industry, including hunting, fishing, and tourism jobs; and

WHEREAS, upgrading the system of locks and dams on the Upper Mississippi and Illinois rivers will provide 3,000 high-paying construction and related jobs over a 15-20 year period with health benefits, which will benefit, not only those directly employed, but the local health care systems and economies of the communities in which these individuals live and work; and

WHEREAS, in 1999 the state of Missouri shipped 18.8 million tons of commodities including grain, coal, chemicals, aggregates, and other products; and

WHEREAS, 38.6 million tons of commodities including grain, coal, chemicals, aggregates, and other products were shipped to, from, and within Missouri by barge, representing $4.2 billion in value; and

WHEREAS, shippers moving by barge in Missouri realized a savings of approximately $380 million compared to other transportation modes; and

WHEREAS, Missouri docks shipped products by barge to 18 states and received products from 17 states; and

WHEREAS, the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis shipped and received 32.6 million tons of commodities in 1999 worth over $5 billion and is the second busiest inland port in the United States, linking rural Missouri and St. Louis with world markets; and

WHEREAS, there are approximately 183 manufacturing facilities, terminals, and docks on the waterways of Missouri, representing thousands of jobs in the state; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly recognizes the importance of inland waterway transportation to Missouri agriculture and industry in the state, the region, and the nation:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-First General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the Congress of the United States to authorize funding for modernization of lock and dam infrastructure in order to construct 1,200-foot locks on the Upper Mississippi and Illinois Rivers' Inland Waterways Transportation System; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Chair of the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation, the Chair of the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 46:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 46

WHEREAS, H.R. 3113, the TANF Reauthorization Act of 2001, was introduced in the United States House of Representatives on October 12, 2001, which would reform the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program to make it clear that the program's principal focus is the long-term reduction of poverty rather than a short-term immediate reduction in the welfare rolls; and

WHEREAS, H.R. 3113 would also make it clear that postsecondary education is a work activity under the TANF program by providing access to postsecondary education for TANF recipients as a permissible work activity; and

WHEREAS, in the United States, education has always been a route to economic self-sufficiency and social mobility; and

WHEREAS, in the twenty-first century, at least one year of postsecondary education will become increasingly more essential for all workers; and

WHEREAS, TANF does not currently extend our nation's commitment to educational opportunity to persons living in poverty with their children, but who are ready, willing, and able to benefit from postsecondary education; and

WHEREAS, data from several studies has demonstrated that the additional earning capacity that a postsecondary education provides can make the difference between economic self-sufficiency and continued poverty for many TANF recipients; and

WHEREAS, among families headed by African American, Latino, and Caucasian women, the poverty rate declines from fifty-one, forty-one, and twenty-two percent to twenty-one, eighteen and one-half, and thirteen percent, respectively, with at least one year of postsecondary education; and

WHEREAS, further data has found that postsecondary education not only increases incomes, it also improves self-esteem, increases children's education ambitions, including aspiring to enter postsecondary education themselves, and has a dramatic impact on quality of life; and

WHEREAS, now more than ever TANF recipients need postsecondary education to obtain the knowledge and skills required to compete for jobs and enable them to lift themselves and their children out of poverty in the long-term; and

WHEREAS, without some postsecondary education, most women who leave welfare for employment will earn wages that place them far below the federal poverty level, even after five years of employment; and

WHEREAS, allowing TANF recipients to attend postsecondary education, even for a short time, will improve their earning potential significantly, with the average person who attends a community college, even without graduating, earning approximately ten percent more than those persons who do not attend postsecondary education at all; and

WHEREAS, women who receive TANF assistance clearly appreciate the importance and role of postsecondary education in moving them out of poverty to long-term economic self-sufficiency; and

WHEREAS, as of November 1999, at least nineteen states had considered or enacted strategies to support recipient's efforts to achieve long-term economic self-sufficiency through the pursuit of postsecondary education:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, support H.R. 3113, the TANF Reauthorization Act of 2001; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly urges Missouri's Congressional delegation to support the passage of H.R. 3113, the TANF Reauthorization Act of 2001; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate, and each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

"162.1174. 1. A majority of the school boards or one or more school boards with a majority of the student population in any county may impose, by order, a sales tax on all retail sales of up to one cent, in one-eighth cent increments, made in such county which are subject to taxation pursuant to sections 144.010 to 144.510, RSMo. The tax authorized by this section shall be in addition to any and all other sales taxes allowed by law, except that no order imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section shall be effective unless there is submitted to the voters of the county, at a state general or primary election, a proposal to authorize the school boards to impose a tax.

2. The ballot of submission shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following language:

Shall the school districts of ..... (County name) impose a county-wide sales tax of ..... (Insert amount) for a period not to exceed ..... (Insert number) years for the purpose of ..... (Insert educational purpose)?

☐ YES

☐ NO

If you are in favor of the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "YES". If you are opposed to the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "NO".

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the order shall become effective on the first day of the second calendar quarter after the director of revenue receives notice of adoption of the tax. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the school boards shall have no power to impose the sales tax authorized pursuant to this section unless and until the school boards shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the imposition of the sales tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. However, in no event shall a proposal for approval of a sales tax be submitted to the voters pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 sooner than ten months from the date of the last proposal submitted pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 in the school district.

Once the tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 is abolished or is terminated by any means, all funds remaining in the special trust funds shall be used solely for activities initiated with revenues raised by the tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178.

4. The tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 shall terminate not more than five years from the effective date of such tax unless sooner abolished by the school boards. Once the tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 is abolished or is terminated by any means, the school boards shall have no power to impose the sales tax unless and until the school boards shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the imposition of the sales tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon, but no proposal for the sales tax shall be submitted to the voters to become effective in less than four calendar quarters of the date the sales tax was abolished or terminated.

5. Moneys generated by a single county education sales tax may be used for property tax reduction in the manner described in section 162.1153, placing the purpose of the tax on the ballot.

162.1175. 1. School districts in contiguous counties may create a regional multicounty education sales tax district as provided in this section. The district may impose an education sales tax substantially in compliance with section 162.1174.

2. The school board of the district with the majority of the student population in a county or a majority of the school boards in a majority of the school districts in a contiguous county or counties may file with the county clerk of the county in which the greatest part of the proposed district's population resides a petition requesting the establishment of a regional multicounty education sales tax district. The petition shall include:

- (1) A description of the counties located within the proposed district;

- (3) The name of the proposed district;
- (4) The rate of proposed sales tax to be levied;
- (5) The duration of the tax;
- (6) The purposes of the tax; and
- (7) A request that the question be submitted to the voters residing within the proposed district to determine whether they will establish a regional multicounty education sales tax district pursuant to this section.

Shall there be organized in the counties of ..... (County names) a regional multicounty education sales tax district, to be known as "....." (Insert name of district), for the purpose of ..... (Insert educational purpose)?

☐ YES

☐ NO

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the district shall be deemed organized. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the district shall not be organized unless and until the school boards shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the organization of a regional multicounty education sales tax district and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. However, in no event shall a proposal for approval of a sales tax be submitted to the voters pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 sooner than ten months from the date of the last proposal submitted pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 in the school district.

4. Pursuant to this section, the school board of the district with the majority of the student population in a county or a majority of the school boards in a majority of the school districts in a county or counties contiguous with a Missouri county with an established education sales tax pursuant to section 162.1174 may petition to establish a regional multicounty education sales tax district with the authority to impose an education sales tax at the identical rate of the established education sales tax for the remainder of its effective period. When such a district is established pursuant to this subsection, the distribution of the proceeds deriving from the regional multicounty district will be adjusted so that the per-pupil amount of the school districts in the county or counties petitioning for establishment of a district pursuant to this section shall not exceed one hundred fifty percent of the per-pupil amount the districts of the adjoining county would have received if the adjoining county's proceeds were considered separately.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require contiguous counties whose voters have approved an educational sales tax to create a multicounty educational sales tax area, nor to require a county with an existing education sales tax to adopt an additional education sales tax upon establishment of a regional multicounty education sales tax district and imposition by the district of a regional education sales tax.

162.1176. 1. All sales taxes collected by the director of revenue pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 on behalf of any school district, less one percent for cost of collection which shall be deposited in the state's general revenue fund after payment of premiums for surety bonds as provided in section 32.087, RSMo, shall be deposited with the state treasurer in a special trust fund, which is hereby created, to be known as the "School District Sales Tax Trust Fund". The collection fee shall be reduced to one-half of one percent in the third year and subsequent years, if any, of the tax. The moneys in the trust fund shall not be deemed to be state funds and shall not be commingled with any funds of the state. The director of revenue shall keep accurate records of the amount of money in the trust fund which was collected in each school district imposing a sales tax pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of the county and the public. Not later than the tenth day of each month, the director of revenue shall distribute all moneys deposited in the trust fund during the preceding month to the school district which levied the tax. Such funds shall be deposited with the treasurer of each such school district, and all expenditures of funds arising from the trust fund shall be by an appropriation act to be enacted by the school board. Districts shall deposit moneys from the trust fund in the teachers', incidental, or capital projects fund, at the discretion of the board. Such moneys may be transferred between such funds by the board. Such moneys shall not be used for the determination of salary compliance.

2. The director of revenue may authorize the state treasurer to make refunds from the amounts in the trust fund and credited to any school district for erroneous payments and overpayments made, and may redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such school districts. If any school district abolishes the tax, the school board shall notify the director of revenue of the action at least ninety days prior to the effective date of the repeal and the director of revenue may order retention in the trust fund, for a period of one year, of two percent of the amount collected after receipt of such notice to cover possible refunds or overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of the tax in such school district, the director of revenue shall authorize the state treasurer to remit the balance in the account to the school district and close the account of that school district. The director of revenue shall notify each school district of each instance of any amount refunded or any check redeemed from receipts due the school district.

3. Except as modified in sections 162.1174 to 162.1178, all provisions of sections 32.085 and 32.087, RSMo, shall apply to the tax imposed pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178.

162.1178. No revenue received by a school district from the tax authorized pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 shall be included in calculating state aid pursuant to section 163.031, RSMo."; and

Representative Holand offered House Amendment No. 1.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1392, by inserting at the appropriate location the following sections:

"162.1174. 1. A majority of the school boards or one or more school boards with a majority of the student population in any county may impose, by order, a sales tax on all retail sales of up to one cent, in one-eighth cent increments, made in such county which are subject to taxation pursuant to sections 144.010 to 144.510, RSMo. The tax authorized by this section shall be in addition to any and all other sales taxes allowed by law, except that no order imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section shall be effective unless there is submitted to the voters of the county, at a state general or primary election, a proposal to authorize the school boards to impose a tax.

2. The ballot of submission shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following language:

Shall the school districts of ..... (County name) impose a county-wide sales tax of ..... (Insert amount) for a period not to exceed ..... (Insert number) years for the purpose of ..... (Insert educational purpose)?

☐ YES

☐ NO

If you are in favor of the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "YES". If you are opposed to the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "NO".

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the order shall become effective on the first day of the second calendar quarter after the director of revenue receives notice of adoption of the tax. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the school boards shall have no power to impose the sales tax authorized pursuant to this section unless and until the school boards shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the imposition of the sales tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. However, in no event shall a proposal for approval of a sales tax be submitted to the voters pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 sooner than ten months from the date of the last proposal submitted pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 in the school district.

3. All revenue received by the school districts from the tax authorized pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 shall be deposited in special trust funds for each school district in the county based on the number of the school district's pupils resident in the county as represented by the district's eligible pupil count used in the state aid payment calculation in the year of disbursement and shall be used by the school districts solely for the purpose described in the ballot for so long as the tax shall remain in effect. Once the tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 is abolished or is terminated by any means, all funds remaining in the special trust funds shall be used solely for activities initiated with revenues raised by the tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178.

4. The tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 shall terminate not more than five years from the effective date of such tax unless sooner abolished by the school boards. Once the tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 is abolished or is terminated by any means, the school boards shall have no power to impose the sales tax unless and until the school boards shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the imposition of the sales tax authorized by sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon, but no proposal for the sales tax shall be submitted to the voters to become effective in less than four calendar quarters of the date the sales tax was abolished or terminated.

162.1175. 1. School districts in contiguous counties may create a regional multicounty education sales tax district as provided in this section. The district may impose an education sales tax substantially in compliance with section 162.1174.

2. The school board of the district with the majority of the student population in a county or a majority of the school boards in a majority of the school districts in a contiguous county or counties may file with the county clerk of the county in which the greatest part of the proposed district's population resides a petition requesting the establishment of a regional multicounty education sales tax district. The petition shall include:

- (1) A description of the counties located within the proposed district;
- (2) The names of the school districts located within the proposed district;
- (3) The name of the proposed district;
- (4) The rate of proposed sales tax to be levied;
- (5) The duration of the tax;
- (6) The purposes of the tax; and
- (7) A request that the question be submitted to the voters residing within the proposed district to determine whether they will establish a regional multicounty education sales tax district pursuant to this section.

3. The question shall be submitted to the voters in the proposed district in substantially the following form:

Shall there be organized in the counties of ..... (County names) a regional multicounty education sales tax district, to be known as "....." (Insert name of district), for the purpose of ..... (Insert educational purpose)?

☐ YES

☐ NO

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the district shall be deemed organized. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the district shall not be organized unless and until the school boards shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the organization of a regional multicounty education sales tax district and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. However, in no event shall a proposal for approval of a sales tax be submitted to the voters pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 sooner than ten months from the date of the last proposal submitted pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 in the school district.

4. Pursuant to this section, the school board of the district with the majority of the student population in a county or a majority of the school boards in a majority of the school districts in a county or counties contiguous with a Missouri county with an established education sales tax pursuant to section 162.1174 may petition to establish a regional multicounty education sales tax district with the authority to impose an education sales tax at the identical rate of the established education sales tax for the remainder of its effective period. When such a district is established pursuant to this subsection, the distribution of the proceeds deriving from the regional multicounty district will be adjusted so that the per-pupil amount of the school districts in the county or counties petitioning for establishment of a district pursuant to this section shall not exceed one hundred fifty percent of the per-pupil amount the districts of the adjoining county would have received if the adjoining county's proceeds were considered separately.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require contiguous counties whose voters have approved an educational sales tax to create a multicounty educational sales tax area, nor to require a county with an existing education sales tax to adopt an additional education sales tax upon establishment of a regional multicounty education sales tax district and imposition by the district of a regional education sales tax.

162.1176. 1. All sales taxes collected by the director of revenue pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 on behalf of any school district, less one percent for cost of collection which shall be deposited in the state's general revenue fund after payment of premiums for surety bonds as provided in section 32.087, RSMo, shall be deposited with the state treasurer in a special trust fund, which is hereby created, to be known as the "School District Sales Tax Trust Fund". The collection fee shall be reduced to one-half of one percent in the third year and subsequent years, if any, of the tax. The moneys in the trust fund shall not be deemed to be state funds and shall not be commingled with any funds of the state. The director of revenue shall keep accurate records of the amount of money in the trust fund which was collected in each school district imposing a sales tax pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of the county and the public. Not later than the tenth day of each month, the director of revenue shall distribute all moneys deposited in the trust fund during the preceding month to the school district which levied the tax. Such funds shall be deposited with the treasurer of each such school district, and all expenditures of funds arising from the trust fund shall be by an appropriation act to be enacted by the school board. Districts shall deposit moneys from the trust fund in the teachers', incidental, or capital projects fund, at the discretion of the board. Such moneys may be transferred between such funds by the board. Such moneys shall not be used for the determination of salary compliance.

2. The director of revenue may authorize the state treasurer to make refunds from the amounts in the trust fund and credited to any school district for erroneous payments and overpayments made, and may redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such school districts. If any school district abolishes the tax, the school board shall notify the director of revenue of the action at least ninety days prior to the effective date of the repeal and the director of revenue may order retention in the trust fund, for a period of one year, of two percent of the amount collected after receipt of such notice to cover possible refunds or overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of the tax in such school district, the director of revenue shall authorize the state treasurer to remit the balance in the account to the school district and close the account of that school district. The director of revenue shall notify each school district of each instance of any amount refunded or any check redeemed from receipts due the school district.

3. Except as modified in sections 162.1174 to 162.1178, all provisions of sections 32.085 and 32.087, RSMo, shall apply to the tax imposed pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178.

162.1178. No revenue received by a school district from the tax authorized pursuant to sections 162.1174 to 162.1178 shall be included in calculating state aid pursuant to section 163.031, RSMo."; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 2002

Representative Green (73) in the Chair.

Prayer by Stephen S. Davis, Chief of Staff for Representative Catherine Hanaway.

Father, we thank Thee for all that Thou has given us - for our lives, our freedom and the land in which we live. Please help us to remember that everything we are and have are gifts from Thee. Help us to be faithful stewards, to be righteous and humble and to understand that we will prosper in this land of liberty, only to the extent that we live righteously and follow Thy Word.

Bless the good members of this House and the leaders of our state to seek inspiration and wisdom from Thee in the decisions they make. Bless the leaders of our nation. Please sustain and strengthen our President with the heavy weight that he bears in leading us through adversity.

Father, bless the people of this state that they will seek Thee and hearken to Thy Word. Help us to teach our children of Thee and Thy love for them. Heal our nation and help us to remember Thee always, that we may return to and be with Thee forever, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTIETH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 18, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God of human history, we stand ready to acknowledge Your presence. With faith in You and in ourselves, we ask for enthusiasm for the tasks at hand. With hope in You and in our own history, we trust our efforts here are moving into a future even better for the human family. Your gift of charity binds the family of humankind residing in our state together.

For some in this Chamber, this week may hold out some suffering. With You, even that can have meaning. Whatever religion we may profess, or even if we are of no faith, steer all the works, joys, and sufferings of this day and this week towards positive conclusions in You. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kelsey Ward, Tony Beltran and Tashia Merritt.

The Journal of the thirty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

The Journal of the thirty-ninth day was approved as printed.

4. The members appointed by the governor shall be residents of Missouri. Any vacancy on the commission shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

5. The commission shall be established by October 1, 2002.

376.1584. 1. After the mandated benefit review commission has been established pursuant to section 376.1581, the commission shall review all existing state health care mandates and issue a report to the president pro tem of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, and the respective committees in both houses which handle health and insurance issues. The commission shall review the projected costs of all existing state and federal mandated benefits. The report shall state the costs of all current state and federal mandated benefits and recommend to the general assembly which mandated benefits should be repealed from state law.

2. The commission shall submit the list of the proposed deletions of state mandated benefits to the general assembly no later than the tenth legislative day of the session beginning in January, 2004. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, upon submittal, the general assembly may by resolution implement the recommendations of the mandated benefit review commission. The resolution shall contain all the recommendations of the commission.

376.1587. Whenever a legislative measure containing a mandated health benefit is proposed, the appropriate committee of the general assembly having jurisdiction over the proposal shall hold a public hearing and determine the level of support for the proposal among the members of the committee. If there is support for the proposed mandate among a majority of the members of the committee, the committee may refer the proposal to the mandated benefit review commission for review and evaluation pursuant to sections 376.1590 and 376.1593. Once a review and evaluation has been completed, the committee shall review the findings of the mandated benefit review commission. A proposed mandate may not be enacted into law unless review and evaluation pursuant to sections 376.1590 and 376.1593 has been completed.

376.1590. Every proposed legislative measure that mandates a health insurance coverage, whether by requiring payment for certain providers or by requiring an offering of a health insurance coverage by an insurer or health carrier as a component of individual or group health insurance policies, shall be accompanied by a report prepared by the mandated benefit review commission that assesses both the social and financial effects of the coverage in the manner provided in section 376.1593, including the efficacy of the treatment or service proposed.

376.1593. Upon referral of a mandated health benefit proposal from the appropriate committee of the general assembly having jurisdiction over the proposal, the mandated benefit review committee shall conduct a review and evaluation of the mandated health benefit proposal and shall report to the committee in a timely manner. The report must include, at the minimum and to the extent that information is available, the following:

- (1) The social impact of mandating the benefit, including:
  - (a) The extent to which the treatment or service is utilized by a significant portion of the population;
  - (b) The extent to which the treatment or service is available to the population;
  - (c) The extent to which insurance coverage for this treatment or service is already available;
  - (d) If coverage is not generally available, the extent to which the lack of coverage results in persons being unable to obtain necessary health care treatment;
  - (e) If the coverage is not generally available, the extent to which the lack of coverage results in unreasonable financial hardship on those persons needing treatment;
  - (f) The level of public demand and the level of demand from providers for the treatment or service;
  - (g) The level of public demand and the level of demand from the providers for individual or group insurance coverage of the treatment or service;
  - (h) The level of interest in and the extent to which collective bargaining organizations are negotiating privately for inclusion of this coverage in group contracts;
  - (i) The likelihood of achieving the objectives of meeting a consumer need as evidenced by the experience of other states;
  - (j) The relevant findings of the state health planning agency or the appropriate health system agency relating to the social impact of the mandated benefit;
  - (k) The alternatives to meeting the identified need;
  - (l) Whether the benefit is a medical or a broader social need and whether it is consistent with the role of health insurance and the concept of managed care;
  - (m) The impact of any social stigma attached to the benefit upon the market;
  - (n) The impact of this benefit on the availability of other benefits currently being offered;
  - (o) The impact of the benefit as it relates to employers shifting to self-insured plans and the extent to which the benefit is currently being offered by employers with self-insured plans; and
  - (p) The impact of making the benefit applicable to the state employee health insurance program established pursuant to chapter 103, RSMo;
- (2) The financial impact of mandating the benefit, including:
  - (a) The extent to which the proposed insurance coverage would increase or decrease the cost of the treatment or service over the next five years;
  - (b) The extent to which the proposed coverage might increase the appropriate or inappropriate use of the treatment or service over the next five years;
  - (c) The extent to which the mandated treatment or service might serve as an alternative for more expensive or less expensive treatment or service;
  - (d) The methods that will be instituted to manage the utilization and costs of the proposed mandate;
  - (e) The extent to which the insurance coverage may affect the number and types of providers of the mandated treatment or service over the next five years;
  - (f) The extent to which insurance coverage of the health care service or provider may be reasonably expected to increase or decrease the insurance premium and administrative expenses of policyholders;
  - (g) The impact of indirect costs, which are costs other than premiums and administrative costs, on the question of the costs and benefits of coverage;
  - (h) The impact of this coverage on the total cost of health care, including potential benefits and savings to insurers and employers because the proposed mandated treatment or service prevents disease or illness or leads to the early detection and treatment of disease or illness that is less costly than treatment or service for later stages of a disease or illness;
  - (i) The effects of mandating the benefit on the cost of health care, particularly the premium and administrative expenses and indirect costs, to employers and employees, including the financial impact on small employers, medium-sized employers and large employers; and
  - (j) The effect of the proposed mandate on cost-shifting between private and public payors of health care coverage and on the overall cost of the health care delivery system in this state;
- (3) The medical efficacy of mandating the benefit, including:
  - (a) The contribution of the benefit to the quality of patient care and the health status of the population, including the results of any research demonstrating the medical efficacy of the treatment or service compared to alternatives or not providing the treatment or service; and

- (b) If the legislation seeks to mandate coverage of an additional class of practitioners:
- a. The results of any professionally acceptable research demonstrating the medical results achieved by the additional class of practitioners relative to those already covered; and
  - b. The methods of the appropriate professional organization that assure clinical proficiency; and
- (4) The effects of balancing the social, economic and medical efficacy considerations, including:
- (a) The extent to which the need for coverage outweighs the costs of mandating the benefit for all policyholders;
  - (b) The extent to which the problem of coverage may be solved by mandating the availability of the coverage as an option for policyholders; and
  - (c) The cumulative impact of mandating this benefit in combination with existing mandates on the costs and availability of coverage.”; and

Further amend said bill, title and enacting clause accordingly.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-SECOND DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious Lord, bless with Your power and presence all who work in the often thankless chores of our state and of this House. As we begin this new day, we remember those who rose early this morning to insure our fresh food, our safety, who make sure our messages get through, who meet the needy of our state and serve the ill and the young, and all who do what we often take for granted.

Now, bless also, the men and women of the House and their families who often bear a heavy burden. Keep them now in Your love. We pray that You would give to us all a renewed appreciation for work, and occupation, and calling in all its rich aspects and diversity.

Keep us this day in Your protection, and to You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 2, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Come Spirit of God, Come.

Free this House from all reluctance that these men and women may give freely and totally of what they have and what they are. Send Your transforming fire into their hearts and into our state. Renew the face of the earth.

Come Spirit of God, Come.

Teach all of us Your immeasurable generosity. Empower our leaders to welcome the stranger, to heal the broken-hearted, to calm the distressed. May we all love without measure everyone who enters our life.

Come Spirit of God, Come.

Remove all fear from the hearts of all here present, and grace us all with trust in love's enduring power. May we all be vital and joyful instruments of Your growth and peace in a world that knows too much violence and pain.

COME SPIRIT OF GOD, COME!

(This prayer has been slightly adapted for use in the House of Representatives from a prayer by Robert Morneau of Wisconsin.)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kim Klipsch, Patricia Ruzicka, Maggie Sueme and Erin Anselman.

The Journal of the forty-third day was approved as corrected.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Committee on Rules, Joint Rules and Bills Perfected and Printed, Chairman Crump reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Rules, Joint Rules and Bills Perfected and Printed, to which was referred HR 933, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that the House Committee Substitute Do Pass.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 933

WHEREAS, the budget of the State of Missouri is required by the Missouri Constitution to balance revenues and expenditures; and

WHEREAS, revenue projections, mandatory expenditures, and constitutionally set spending priorities make passing the budget for fiscal year 2003 extraordinarily difficult; and

WHEREAS, the House Committee on Budget has scrutinized the budget as recommended by the governor and will report appropriations bills to the House which represent the best effort to balance revenues and expenditures for fiscal year 2003:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-first General Assembly, in the perfection of appropriations bills for fiscal year 2003, will observe the following procedure, which shall for purposes of parliamentary rulings be regarded as a definitive statement of the practice of the House:

"1. No amendment to any appropriations bill shall be in order that increases the total amount of general revenue appropriated in the bill as it was reported from the Committee on Budget, except that for the operating budget (House Bills Nos. 1101 to 1112) any increase in the general revenue appropriated in a bill may also be balanced

(1) by a decrease in general revenue appropriation which results from adoption of an amendment to another operating budget bill in a manner that does not increase the total of general revenue appropriated by all of the operating budget bills considered in the aggregate as they were reported from the Committee on Budget; or

(2) by an increase in appropriation to the General Revenue Fund from the Budget Reserve Fund (House Bill No. 1114).

2. Any member offering an increasing amendment to be balanced by a decreasing amendment to another operating budget bill shall submit the amendments together. If the decreasing amendment applies to the pending bill and the amendment is adopted, the increasing amendment shall be taken up when the bill it applies to is taken up. If the decreasing amendment applies to a bill that has not been perfected, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up and disposed of first by going to the bill to be amended by the decreasing amendment. If the decreasing amendment is adopted, the increasing amendment shall be taken up next. If the decreasing amendment is not adopted, the increasing amendment shall not be in order. Decreasing amendments shall clearly state where the increased amount of moneys would be appropriated in the event that the corresponding increasing amendment is adopted.

3. Any member offering an increasing amendment to the operating budget to be balanced by an increase in appropriation from the Budget Reserve Fund shall submit the amendments together. The amendment to House Bill No. 1114 shall be taken up and disposed of first by going to House Bill No. 1114. For adoption the amendment to House Bill No. 1114 shall require approval by two-thirds of the members elected. If the amendment to House Bill 1114 is adopted, the increasing amendment to the operating budget bill shall be taken up next. If the amendment to House Bill No. 1114 is not adopted, the increasing amendment shall not be in order."

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Rules, Joint Rules and Bills Perfected and Printed, to which was referred HB 1306 and HB 1926, begs leave to report it has examined the same and finds them to be truly perfected and that the printed copies thereof furnished the members are correct.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God, we thank You for the mystery of our years and the will to live; for the rewards of solitude and the pleasure of work well done. We are thankful for goodwill from unexpected sources that finds us in our seasons of need and for the gift of faith that gives our life a broad and sure foundation.

Forgive us, we pray, that we are so anxious to have the approval of neighbors, forgetting that You are the source of life and goodness. We know that it is only Your approval that brings us peace and a clear conscience.

In the beauty of this Spring, help us all to do better and better. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Holly Perkins, Arnell Reed, Christopher Wesley, Brittani Dunbar, L'Neece Fitts, Becky Owens, Caleb Johnson, Mikiah Mullins, Kaitlin Eckhoff, Malia Andereck, Kevin Gomez, Jasmina Mulalic, Jason Baker, Elise Andrael Gray, Denny J. Merideth IV and Kristofer D. Merideth.

The Journal of the forty-fourth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Lord of Life: bless now, with Your grace, the hard working and occasionally misunderstood men and women of this House and all who work with them. As decisions are made, keep before us the record You are writing. It is a record of our stewardship and our good sense.

Help them to be good and careful stewards. Support them in their best convictions. Correct them when they need a course adjustment. If any are in need of Your special grace and comfort this day, Gracious Lord, grant it, and sustain them with Your counsel and love.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Andy Chipp, Kristen George, Matt Seidel, Craig Schultz, Melissa Applewhite, Breanna Graham, DaWan Ferguson, Kiaira Manning, Marshaun Futrell, Kianna Ruff, Martin Tinoco, Telisha Hall, Antonio White, John Hansen, Nija Thomas, Jasmine Wade, Sun Young Song, Tyler Haltermen, Sasha Fellenz, Carey Fries, Josh Moye, Precious Turner, Melissa Major, Kristy Boehler, Meagen Jones, Claire Heinicke, Melanie Verseman, Mike Dyer, Ethan Hill, Megan Christy, Adam Wilson, Robin Jones, Emily McGhee, Gary Crites, Ashley Crites, Amie Murphy, Haley Ray, Nicole Galkowski, Ron Erickson, Brandon Hunter, Michelle Anderson, Kim Jones, Ashley Williams, Sally Lister, Stephanie Serati, Katherine Wallach, Adam Herberg, Danny Lutz and Nichole Graves.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY, FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

O Lord who art holy beyond our telling with whom we dare not trifle:

Bless with Your grace the deliberations of this House. We acknowledge our shortcomings and freely seek Your pardon. Create within us clean hearts, and renew right spirits. Sharpen both mind and heart for the business before the House and give to these servants of Missouri the unfailing conviction that with You all things are possible.

Grant to each, this day, that which is needed for faithful service, good patience and the gift of humor. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Bryce Shields, Jordan Jones and Kegan Barett.

The Journal of the forty-sixth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 8, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Lord God, Your creative utterance makes the sun to shine and the rain to fall. As the rains fall across our state today, let the moisture of Your Spirit water the thoughts and actions of this great Chamber, that advance in all that is good - justice, peace, progress, security, dignity - will take place here and in all parts of our state.

As many difficult and important labors on the state budget and other weighty matters were concluded last week, may this week bring movement and decision on the bills at hand. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the forty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

Further amend said bill by inserting the following in the appropriate location:

“Section 1. 1. Upon an individual’s failure to pay court costs, fines, fees or other sums ordered by a court as payable to the state, a court may report any such delinquencies in excess of twenty-five dollars to the Office of State Courts Administrator and request that the State Courts Administrator seek a setoff of an income tax refund.

2. The Office of State Courts Administrator shall give the department of revenue the information necessary to identify each debtor whose refund is sought to be set off and the amount of the debt or debts owed by each such debtor who is entitled to a refund in excess of twenty-five dollars.

3. The department of revenue shall notify the Office of State Courts Administrator that a refund has been set off on behalf of a court and shall certify the amount of such setoff, which shall not exceed the amount of the claimed debt certified. # JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FORTY-NINTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God of mercy, Father of justice, Lord of peace, manifest Yourself in this room, in office, hearing room, corridor; wherever You are needed to bring order from disorder and serenity from discord.

In this great Capitol building, may even the stones resound with Your aura. Help all here to recall the greatness of their calling, even in the little decisions and judgements, which add up to important ends. Help us build, not just material progress, but expanse in mind and heart, which truly makes us free. Amen.

Committee on Agriculture, Chairman Berkowitz reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Agriculture, to which was referred HR 281, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 281

Whereas, the historical attachment of Missourians to the land and agriculture is decreasing; and

Whereas, today's farmers and ranchers contribute to the abundant, healthy, and low-cost food, fiber, and fuel system that drives the state and national economies; and

Whereas, the chasm that exists between production and the plate allows for misunderstandings of the importance of agriculture; and

Whereas, the Governor's Task Force on Agriculture identified the necessity of building an organizational and communications infrastructure to better serve the needs of the agriculture community; and

Whereas, the House Agriculture Committee does recognize the critical need for cooperation between the various organizations within agriculture to tell the agriculture story; and

Whereas, the House Agriculture Subcommittee tasked with making recommendations for implementation of the Governor's Task Force on Agriculture findings met and discussed the challenges and opportunities presented by better coordination and focus of resources; and

Whereas, it is agreed that through additional emphasis on coordination, the agriculture community can better educate consumers, both young and old, about the importance of agriculture production to our state and nation; and

Whereas, to be successful, this effort must be a venture embraced by both the public and private sectors:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-first General Assembly, urge the Departments of Agriculture, Natural Resources, Conservation, Health and Senior Services, and Economic Development, and the Coordinating Board for Higher Education to cooperatively develop plans for increased awareness and understanding of the importance and opportunity of the state's agriculture industries; and

Be it further resolved that the members of the House of Representatives urge private sector agriculture interests to join with government in cooperative programs of education, focusing on both in-school as well as practical hands-on interaction; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Directors of the Departments of Agriculture, Natural Resources, Conservation, Health and Senior Services, and Economic Development, and the Coordinating Board for Higher Education.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 18

WHEREAS, recent legislative hearings have brought to light serious problems in the ability of young adults to understand and evaluate consumer credit issues, such as credit cards and payday loans; and

WHEREAS, mistakes with financial well-being made in early adulthood can imperil a young adult's credit rating and affect his or her ability to be a productive member of society; and

WHEREAS, the ability to evaluate the soundness and advisability of using particular consumer credit programs is a crucial life skill; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri assessment program communications, mathematics, and social studies assessments for middle school and high school students offer a unique opportunity to gauge the extent of young people's understanding of these issues; and

WHEREAS, the first goal of the Show-Me Standards includes elements such as evaluating information and ideas, and applying acquired information to different contexts as students, workers, citizens, and consumers; and

WHEREAS, in some disciplines, such as consumer and family sciences and business education, extensive work has already been done to chart skills such as comparing various aspects of consumer credit against not only the Show-Me Standards but also national standards and tests; and

WHEREAS, dictating the content of courses by state statute may not always be good public policy, but making known legislative priorities so that existing programs may accommodate those priorities is an obligation of the General Assembly:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education should:

1) Impanel a group or groups of teachers to determine if consumer credit issues can be addressed in the framework of the Show-Me Standards and, if so, determine what type of questions, including the possibility of performance events, would be appropriate for inclusion in the statewide assessments, as well as addressing the optimum grade level for inclusion, whether middle or high school, or both;

2) If the teacher panels respond favorably to the inclusion of consumer credit questions, determine if and how the assessment instruments can be kept comparable with previous years' instruments as they are rewritten in the ordinary course of test development to incorporate consumer credit elements;

3) Determine what steps would be necessary to track and report statewide average performance on those elements concerning consumer credit issues and advise if it is possible or advisable;

4) Encourage organizations that represent individual curriculum areas, such as communications, mathematics, and social studies, to incorporate analysis of consumer credit issues where appropriate; and

5) Identify and publicize methods besides statewide assessments that could help students and teachers incorporate consumer credit issues in teaching and learning, including professional development opportunities; and

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 13

Whereas, HR 3113, the TANF Reauthorization Act of 2001, was introduced in the United States House of Representatives on October 12, 2001, which would reform the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program to make it clear that the program's principal focus is the long-term reduction of poverty rather than a short-term immediate reduction in the welfare rolls; and

Whereas, HR 3113 would also make it clear that postsecondary education is a work activity under the TANF program by providing access to postsecondary education for TANF recipients as a permissible work activity; and

Whereas, in the United States, education has always been a route to economic self-sufficiency and social mobility; and

Whereas, in the twenty-first century, at least one year of postsecondary education will become increasingly more essential for all workers; and

Whereas, TANF does not currently extend our nation's commitment to educational opportunity to persons living in poverty with their children, but who are ready, willing, and able to benefit from postsecondary education; and

Whereas, data from several studies has demonstrated that the additional earning capacity that a postsecondary education provides can make the difference between economic self-sufficiency and continued poverty for many TANF recipients; and

Whereas, among families headed by African American, Latino, and Caucasian women, the poverty rate declines from fifty-one, forty-one, and twenty-two percent to twenty-one, eighteen and one-half, and thirteen percent, respectively, with at least one year of postsecondary education; and

Whereas, further data has found that postsecondary education not only increases incomes, it also improves self-esteem, increases children's education ambitions, including aspiring to enter postsecondary education themselves, and has a dramatic impact on quality of life; and

Whereas, now more than ever TANF recipients need postsecondary education to obtain the knowledge and skills required to compete for jobs and enable them to lift themselves and their children out of poverty in the long-term; and

Whereas, without some postsecondary education, most women who leave welfare for employment will earn wages that place them far below the federal poverty level, even after five years of employment; and

Whereas, allowing TANF recipients to attend postsecondary education, even for a short time, will improve their earning potential significantly, with the average person who attends a community college, even without graduating, earning approximately ten percent more than those persons who do not attend postsecondary education at all; and

Whereas, women who receive TANF assistance clearly appreciate the importance and role of postsecondary education in moving them out of poverty to long-term economic self-sufficiency; and

Whereas, as of November 1999, at least nineteen states had considered or enacted strategies to support recipient's efforts to achieve long-term economic self-sufficiency through the pursuit of postsecondary education:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, support HR 3113, the TANF Reauthorization Act of 2001; and

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly urges Missouri's Congressional delegation to support the passage of HR 3113, the TANF Reauthorization Act of 2001; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate, and each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation.

WHEREAS, in 1993, the General Assembly enacted Senate Bill No. 251 containing the provision now codified at Section 287.135, RSMo, which requires the Department of Insurance to promulgate rules to determine the criteria by which a workers' compensation insurer may reimburse fees charged by a managed care organization ("MCO"); and

WHEREAS, the Department of Insurance promulgated Rule 20 CSR 500-6.700 which would become effective thirty days after publication in the Code of State Regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Insurance has filed proposed rulemakings on at least 7 occasions but have failed to finalize such proposed rulemakings with the filing of an order of rulemaking with the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules and the Secretary of State; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules has held at least two hearings on previous rules proposed by the Department; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Insurance to date has failed and refused to abide by the directions of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules relating to the promulgation of an emergency and proposed rule:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, upon concurrence of a majority of the members of the Senate and a majority of the members of the House of Representatives, hereby disapprove proposed Rule 20 CSR 500-6.700; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the General Assembly hereby directs the Department of Insurance to promulgate an emergency rule and a proposed rule with a sunset of December 31, 2002, which would provide a mechanism to pay managed care organizations, including those whose claims have been denied since the passage of Senate Bill No. 251 in 1993, based on the absence of a rule as required pursuant to Section 287.135, RSMo; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of the foregoing be submitted to the Secretary of State so that the Secretary of State may publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation upon this resolution having been signed by the Governor or having been approved by two-thirds of each house of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, after veto by the Governor as provided in Article III, Sections 31 and 32, and Article IV, Section 8 of the Missouri Constitution; and

---

FIFTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 2002

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God: the beauty of this Missouri morning lifts the heart. Lift the men and women of this House as they seek resolution of issues that are both significant and difficult to resolve. Keep before them the absolute of honesty and protect them from all that is narrow, self-serving or irritable.

O Lord, where they are tired refresh them. Where they are angry calm them. May what they do be so clearly right that it needs no spin. Lift them for the business of this day, and to You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Rylee Scott, Jonathan Gehrin, Brittany Jacobsen, Leslie Lock, Caitlin Benning, Danny Nesler, Ryan Kiecher, Andy Doerr, Natalie Kaiser, Pete Petri, Sammie Stanley, Westin Miller, Lauren Miller, Hoang Phan, Krista Miesner, Anthony Wunderlich, Mary Conner, Joseph Moore, Julia Lee, Jessica Magee and Lindsay Miller.

The Journal of the forty-ninth day was approved as corrected.

HOUSE RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 963

Whereas, it is with special pleasure that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives pause to acknowledge the important role which this state's public schools play in the educational development of countless Missouri youngsters; and

Whereas, Altenburg School District 48 in Altenburg, Missouri, is one of a select group of school districts that was honored during the Distinction in Performance Awards Dinner to be held March 26, 2002, in Cape Girardeau; and

Whereas, Altenburg School District 48 enjoys the honor, glory, and distinction of being among 187 of the state's 524 school districts to earn this prestigious award; and

Whereas, sponsored by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, the Distinction in Performance Award was established to recognize school districts with high or improved performance based upon Annual Performance Report (APR) information; and

Whereas, to qualify for Distinction in Performance, Altenburg School District 48 had to meet eleven of the twelve possible Performance Indicators required for K-12 districts; and

Whereas, in order to receive the Distinction in Performance Award, Altenburg School District 48 also had to meet all MAP Performance Standards; and

Whereas, Altenburg School District 48 continues a proud tradition of excellence by providing quality education under the outstanding leadership of teachers, faculty, and staff, all of whom are to be applauded for their hard work and tremendous dedication in reaching this impressive achievement:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-first General Assembly, unanimously join in extending our most hearty congratulations and best wishes to Superintendent Richard E. "Rick" Hoffman and to the students, administrators, faculty, and staff within Altenburg School District 48 at this proud moment of well-deserved distinction; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Altenburg School District 48 in Altenburg, Missouri.

(2) Require such written request to clearly and specifically identify the conditions for which the rate adjustment is sought;

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16

An act by concurrent resolution and pursuant to Title 40, Section 187, United States Code, to request the Joint Committee on the Library of Congress to approve the replacement of a statue in the Statuary Hall of the Capitol of the United States.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

Whereas, 40 U.S.C. Section 187 permits a state to ask the Joint Committee on the Library of Congress for replacement of a statue it provided for display in the National Statuary Hall in the Capitol of the United States after the passage of the required display time period specified in 40 U.S.C. Section 187a; and

Whereas, that request must be made by a resolution adopted by the legislature of the state and approved by the Governor; and

Whereas, in 1895, the Missouri General Assembly authorized placement of statues of Thomas Hart Benton and Francis Preston Blair in Statuary Hall, which statues were placed there in 1899; and

Whereas, Francis Preston Blair was an outstanding Missourian, a member of Congress, a major general in the United States Army during the Civil War, and a candidate for Vice President of the United States; and

Whereas, Harry S Truman was the most important statesman Missouri ever gave the nation, an outstanding county official, United States Senator, Vice President and President of the United States who brought the Second World War to completion, led the free world at the beginning of the Cold War, and stood for fairness and opportunity for all Americans:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby request approval from the Joint Committee on the Library of Congress to replace the statue of Francis Preston Blair with a statue of Harry S Truman as one of the two statues Missouri is entitled to display in the Statuary Hall of the United States Capitol; and

Be it further resolved that the Missouri General Assembly requests the Statue of Francis Preston Blair be returned to the State of Missouri as permitted under 40 U.S.C. Section 187a(d); and

Be it further resolved that this resolution be sent to the Governor for his approval or rejection; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 2002

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Lord of Life: the Spring brings bright days and halls that are filled with the boys and girls of Missouri. We give You thanks for the Spring and for the youth of our state and those who teach and nurture them.

This day, may the men and women of this House again seek a partnership with You. Show Your Holy will to them in their highest values and best goals. As they continue to work and worry over our state, protect them from growing weary or cynical or surly or impatient, for Gracious God, You know that we need their best.

To You be glory and honor forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 14

Whereas, a permanent electronic identification device to track all red meat-producing livestock from farm to table would be a great protective device for anti-bioterrorism; and

Whereas, such devices would be useful to the producers of red meat-producing livestock in controlling diseases as a method of tracing such livestock back to the farm; and

Whereas, such devices would be beneficial in providing producers with livestock carcass information, including the rate of gain; and

Whereas, such devices would be most useful in generating information on the concept of "farm to table" to protect American consumers:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby encourage the Animal and Plant Inspection Service of the United States Department of Agriculture to develop and promulgate a permanent electronic identification program to be used on all red meat-producing livestock that would gather information and help protect the United States' consumer in the event of a bioterrorist threat; and
